

SPECIAL INVITATION TO FAMILY CIRCLE READERS

At FamilyCircle.com, our mission is simple—to cover topics that matter most to moms of tweens and teens. Time and again you've told us how important it is to connect with other women to swap advice and share stories on how to handle the sometimes tricky issues facing families today.

That's why we're launching the Motherboard. It's a Web community where you and other moms can tell us exactly what's on your mind.

Throughout the year Motherboard members will be invited to offer opinions on raising kids, the economy, schools, nutrition, shopping and more. What you say will help shape future articles for the magazine and website.

Members receive a free weekly newsletter filled with information and tips from moms across the country, plus previews for special offers and product samples. Better yet, when you sign up you'll be entered for the chance to win $20,000 in our Motherboard Sweepstakes (see page 206 for rules).

I look forward to hearing from you!

hat do most people love about summer? Sunshine, barbecuing, trips to the beach—the usual suspects. What do I love? No school, no schedules, plenty of time to read. Don't get me wrong; it's not that I don't read the rest of the year, but as every working mom knows, it can be extremely challenging to find those moments (with homework, dinner, dishes, laundry, evening meetings, sports...) and the energy. So the past month has been bliss, especially because I'm catching up on my Kindle, which I'm admittedly a little obsessed with. It's lightweight and extremely portable, and the books are so well priced. And the beauty part for summer: Just slip it in a plastic zip bag and you're splash-safe (and sand-free) at the shore, by the pool, even in the bathtub—no water-splotched pages to turn! Currently in my queue are Innocent, by Scott Turow; The Girl Who Kicked the Hornet's

Nest, by Stieg Larsson; and Colum McCann's Let the Great World Spin. Check out what FC staffers have on their night tables and e-readers, then share your favorite summer picks at momster.com/group/bookclub. And if you have any suggestions for a 12-year-old boy who hates to read, please let me know. Now that is another challenge...

Staffers' Summer Reading List

Downloading to my Kindle: Shanghai Girls, by Lisa See. My stepmom recommended it to me. It explores the bond between two sisters—just the thing to take with me on a sisterly weekend away.
—Stephanie Emma Pfeffer, senior associate editor

On my Nook: The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks. Henrietta was a humble AfricanAmerican woman who passed away in 1951, when she was 31, but her cells—which were harvested without her consent—have provided countless scientific breakthroughs in fighting polio, infertility, cancer and more. Rosa Parks' accomplishments are well known, but Henrietta was a hero without even trying. —Cheryl S. Grant, research editor

What we've all been waiting for: Mockingjay, the third and final installment of The Hunger Games series. We truly hate to see it end—we may need group therapy when we reach the last page—but we are also dying to know the outcome and get some answers. Does District 13 really exist? Will President Snow declare a final Hunger Games? And who will Katniss choose, Peeta—if he survives his capture—or Gale? —Darcy, Jonna, Kate and Robb, aka Hungerites. Count down the days to its August 24 pub date.

Turn to "Best Beach Reads," page 92, for more of our book picks.

Homer and Langley, by E.L. Doctorow. I've long been intrigued by the famous hoarding Collyer Brothers, who died under all the papers they accumulated. Most definitely the incentive I've needed to declutter my office desk!

A Perfect Match

Your article on the wonderful work Sherri Franklin is doing to pair aging dogs with senior citizens through Muttville ["There's No Place Like a Home," May] was heartwarming. As someone who regularly donates to animal organizations, I'm always saddened to see older pets in shelters, knowing they'll likely be euthanized. I look forward to hearing more about the great work of Sherri and Muttville.

Liz Montaigne, Coral Springs, FL

In Bloom

Dangerous Eating

Thank you so much for publishing an article about pet dietary dangers ["Food for Thought," May]. You discussed many items that I had no idea were bad for animals, like apple seeds and grapes, which my stepson had just fed to our dog that morning. Luckily our pet was fine. I have since posted your list on our refrigerator so our whole family knows what not to feed him.

Michelle Burgess, Camden, DE

Road Trip

I love the My Hometown column. It's a treat to see different parts of the country highlighted, and it's nice to know that there are still families out there doing things together. Keep up the good work!

Giving Back

There was a question in "Neat Tricks" [May] about what to do with hotel samples. Many nonprofits and shelters will gladly accept unopened hotel toiletries. I know from my work with such a group in Pennsylvania that these items are greatly appreciated.

millie's august pie

MAKES 10 servings PREP 10 minutes BAKE at 400° for 50 minutes

"This recipe is my family's favorite—my mother called it August Pie because you can use whatever kind of summer berries or fruit you like!"

Connie Masullo, Bellefonte, PA

- ½ of 1 package (15 ounces) refrigerated rolled piecrusts
- cups sliced peaches
- 2 cups raspberries
- 1 cup half-and-half
- 1 egg
- <sup>2</sup>/₃ cup sugar
- 1/4 cup flour

- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 Heat oven to 400°. Fit piecrust into a 9-inch pie dish. Place fruit in piecrust and spread evenly.
- In a small bowl, combine half-and-half, egg, sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt; stir until well blended. Pour over fruit.

3 Place pie in oven and bake at 400° for 50 minutes or until center is set. Cool completely on wire rack before serving.

honey-garlic chicken

MAKES 4 servings PREP 10 minutes BAKE at 400° for 40 minutes

- ⅓ cup honey
  - garlic cloves, minced
- tablespoon thyme, finely chopped
- tablespoon rosemary, finely chopped
- 2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> pounds bone-in chicken thighs, trimmed of excess fat (about 6 thighs)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 Heat oven to 400°. Line a large

- rimmed baking sheet with aluminum foil; set aside.
- 2 In a small bowl, stir together honey, garlic, thyme and rosemary.
- 3 Place chicken thighs on prepared baking sheet and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brush with honey mixture and bake at 400° for 40 minutes, brushing with remaining mixture every 10 minutes or until internal temperature reaches 160° on an instant-read thermometer.

THE HANG OF IT

More ideas on how to wake up your walls with family photos.

- Bring photos into rooms where you'll appreciate them and where they'll have the most impact.
- Don't hang pictures too high. To create a focal point, place the central image at eye level, or a little higher if the ceiling is lofty.
- Unless you're working - with pairs or on a grid display, always choose an odd number of images and make your prints in a variety of sizes.
- ➡ Although precut mats are usually included with ready-tohang frames, a craft store can custom-cut a mat to any size.
- ▶ Protect originals by
- using a copy machine to enlarge or shrink the image. Then trim the resulting printout to fit your frame.
- ➡Test-drive an arrangement by cutting brown paper to the size of your frames and moving pieces around on the floor until you get the desired effect.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

>> HERE'S HOW

Allow a generous amount of mat on either side of the print and, instead of centering the photo, position it in the upper third of the mat (there should be more white space on the bottom than the top). Beyond that, there are no rules. You can even choose a mat that's bigger than the one shown here, increasing the white space around the photo.

For big impact, use a large mat to emphasize a very small photo-for example, a 2" x 3" photo with a 10" mat.

Amanda Gates-Lamothe left behind city life to raise her five kids in this charming town surrounded by beaches, historical sites and friendly neighbors. by Caren Oppenheim

Slow down I grew up in the suburbs of Pittsburgh but moved to Connecticut after my mom and stepdad relocated while I was in college. Even though I was used to the busier pace of living outside a major city, I now love the small-town feel. We have beautiful beaches and a great school system—the lack of traffic is also a big bonus! My kids benefit from living in a tight-knit place where everyone knows one another. Under the boardwalk Our area has many beaches, but the closest is Pleasure Beach. It's less than a half-mile from our home, so we usually go with neighbors and it's never that crowded. When we need a change of pace we travel to Ocean Beach Park in New London for treats from mom-andpop ice cream shops and to attend an antique car show. Go fly a kite Harkness State Memorial Park is one of our favorite summer spots. In 1907 philanthropist Edward Harkness bought the mansion, which sits on more than 200 acres overlooking the Long Island Sound, and it was donated to the state in 1950. The property features a park, a botanical garden and an outdoor theater. Clubs and the public fly kites on the estate's huge lawns. By September we always need new kites—ours have been stuck in almost every tree! Hog wild When Pigs Fly Cafe has great comfort food. It serves only breakfast and lunch, so we usually go on Sundays after church. In addition to delicious food, there's a serve-yourself coffee bar and a shelf with puzzles and books for kids. And the owners do a great job of incorporating pig decor everywhere.

Novel hangout We live right on the border of neighboring Niantic, so we often head there. The Book Barn is an amazing store that buys and sells used books—there are over 350.000! Cats roam around and there are free drinks and snacks, creating a cozy indie atmosphere. The right fit Having five children—all in different schools—is tough. Between my job as a paraprofessional for special education, graduate school classes and being a single mom, I'm not always able to drive them around. Neighbors and church members are always there for us. The community's generosity is one of the things I love most about living here. They are helping me to raise my family—and that is what makes Waterford the place for us.

1. Jordan Schoolhouse is the oldest surviving building in town, dating back to the 1700s. 2. Harkness State Park is open for tours from Memorial Day to Labor Day. 3. Neighboring Ocean Beach Park has a short boardwalk and a few amusement park rides.

EVERYDAY WAYS WE CAN ALL MAKE A DIFFERENCE

NAME Jennifer Frances AGE 39
CAUSE Bess the Book Bus HOMETOWN Tampa, Florida

FROM THE OUTSIDE, THE VAN LOOKS LIKE ANY OTHER YELLOW SCHOOL BUS. But as kids step through the door they enter a library on wheels. Bess the Book Bus' bright blue walls are lined with shelves packed with books for all ages that kids get to keep. Since 2002, it has distributed more than 200,000 books nationwide. "I grew up without lots of money, but I knew from a young age that books could take you anywhere," says Jennifer Frances, Bess the Book Bus' founder.

Jennifer's maternal grandmother, Bess, passed on to Jennifer her love of reading. Jennifer wanted other kids to have that experience too, so she cashed in her 401K to buy a bus and children's books. First she visited local hospitals and medical clinics, then added stops to domestic violence shelters, after-school programs, Boys and Girls Clubs, preschools, public libraries and struggling schools. Word spread quickly and Bess the Book Bus was in demand all over town. At every visit Jennifer reads a story, then kids board the bus and pick out a book or two to take home. "We're trying to build home libraries for kids who don't have access to books," she says. Last summer Jennifer took Bess on a cross-country tour and spent 80 days on the road, distributing 21,500 books in 50 cities, and she'll be traveling again this summer.

Initially Jennifer used her own money to purchase books and asked friends to donate used ones. Now local bookstores help her with drives, and she has teamed up with First Book, a national nonprofit that gives books to needy kids and organizations like hers. She also depends on private donations, corporate sponsors and her volunteer staff of 20.

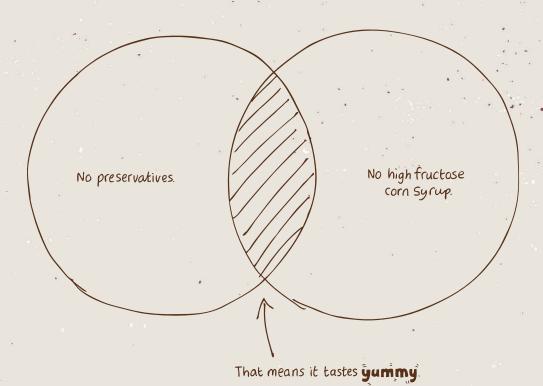

"I know this program is working because sometimes I'll visit schools that I haven't been to in years and the kids still remember me," Jennifer says. "They can name the books I gave them—and that tells me I made a connection, which means the world to me."

SMART WAYS TO HELP YOUR TWEENS & TEENS NAVIGATE THE REAL WORLD. BY ROSALIND WISEMAN

l am raising my 13-yearold granddaughter and have no clue how to deal with this generation—their values are so different from mine, it seems that providing a safe and loving home isn't enough anymore. Help, please!

A: Forget the idea that being a grandparent means you're not credible. That's totally untrue—buy into it and your granddaughter may use your insecurity to manipulate you. Good family values are good family values, no matter what. That said, here are some books that may help: Rachel Simmons' The Curse of the Good Girl (Penguin); Michael Johnson's Best Friends, Worst Enemies (Ballantine); and Ron Taffel's Breaking Through to Teens (Guilford Press). But I want you to believe in all your own parenting wisdom too, because hardearned knowledge never loses its relevance.

What can I do about my 17-year-old, who won't learn to drive? When I ask why, he says, "I don't want to die!" It may have something to do with the fact that my older son had a bad accident three years ago. But I can't be a chauffeur forever. Any advice?

I get that you have better things to do than be his driver. But to me the bigger issue is helping him become independent. In most areas of the country driving is an important skill and even a rite of passage. Because his fear is so serious and seems based at least partly on his brother's trauma, I suggest you take him to a mental health professional to help him process his emotions and create strategies for addressing them. Be sure to ask the therapist how you can be supportive of the ideas your son decides to try. Whether he drives or not isn't as critical as acknowledging his feelings and reassuring him that there's nothing wrong with asking for help when you're afraid. If, in the end, he still doesn't want to get his license, that's okay. And it's also fine for him to ride a bike or take public transportation.

My 10-year-old son is asking me a lot of questions about sex. I managed okay with our daughter but was hoping my husband could handle this one. My son says he feels more comfortable talking to me. Do you have any suggestions?

Here's the deal: If your son wants to talk, you talk. Yes, it can be awkward. My personal favorite, from one of my boys, is, "Wait, do people have sex even when they don't want a baby? Why would they do that? Do you and Dad do that?" Even if you're blushing, tell your son how glad you are that he approached you, and reassure him that you're happy to discuss whatever is on his mind. But when the conversation is winding down say, "I also want you to feel good about going to your father, so next time the two of you are hanging out, ask him your questions too." Then privately let your husband know he's on deck.

An important vaccination schedule update for children 15 months to 5 years of age.

Certain strains of the pneumococcal bacteria can cause serious, invasive disease that is being seen more frequently today.

Invasive pneumococcal disease includes bacterial meningitis, which remains a serious risk for children up to age 5. Pneumococcal meningitis can cause death and long-term problems, such as hearing loss.

The doctors at the Centers for Disease Control have recommended that children under 5 who have had a full series of vaccinations with pneumococcal conjugate vaccine should now get a dose of Prevnar 13™, to cover six more strains including the most common one threatening young children today.*

*The immune response from this catch-up schedule might be lower for the 6 additional strains (types 1, 3, 5, 6A, 7F, and 19A) than if your child had received the full 4 doses of Prevnar 13™. It's not known how medically important this difference is.

INDICATION FOR PREVNAR 13™

- Prevnar 13™ is a vaccine approved for use in children 6 weeks through 5 years of age (prior to the 6th birthday).
- Prevnar 13™ is indicated for active immunization for the prevention of invasive disease caused by 13 strains of Streptococcus pneumoniae (1, 3, 4, 5, 6A, 6B, 7F, 9V, 14, 18C, 19A, 19F, and 23F).

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION FOR PREVNAR 13™

- Prevnar 13™ should not be given to anyone with a severe allergic reaction to any component of Prevnar 13™, Prevnar® (Pneumococcal 7-valent Conjugate Vaccine [Diphtheria CRM<sub>197</sub> Protein]), or any diphtheria toxoid—containing vaccine.
- Prevnar 13™ may not protect all individuals receiving the vaccine. Children with weakened immune systems may have a reduced immune response to Prevnar 13™.
   A temporary pause of breathing following vaccination has been observed in some infants born prematurely.
- The most commonly reported serious adverse events include bronchiolitis (an infection of the lungs) (0.9%, 1.1%), gastroenteritis (inflammation of the stomach and small intestine) (0.9%, 0.9%), and pneumonia (0.9%, 0.5%) for Prevnar 13™ and Prevnar®, respectively.
- The most common side effects are redness, swelling and tenderness at the injection site, fever, decreased appetite, irritability, increased sleep, and decreased sleep. Any side effects associated with the vaccination should be reported to your child's health care provider.
- Ask your child's health care provider about the risks and benefits of Prevnar 13™. Only a health care provider can decide if Prevnar 13™ is right for your child.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088. Please see Brief Summary of Prescribing Information on reverse side.

IMPORTANT FACTS

Prev • nar 13

ABOUT PREVNAR 13™

- Prevnar 13™ is a vaccine which helps protect against 13 strains of Streptococcus pneumoniae (1, 3, 4, 5, 6A, 6B, 7F, 9V, 14, 18C, 19A, 19F, and 23F) that can cause invasive disease.
- Prevnar 13™ may also be used for the prevention of otitis media (ear infection) caused by Streptococcus pneumoniae strains 4, 6B, 9V, 14, 18C, 19F, and 23F. No efficacy data for ear infections are available for strains 1, 3, 5, 6A, 7F, and 19A.
- Prevnar 13™ may not protect all individuals receiving the vaccine. Protection against ear infections is expected to be less than that for invasive disease.
- Prevnar 13™ does not replace the use of 23-valent pneumococcal polysaccharide vaccine (PPV23) in children ≥24 months of age with sickle cell disease, damaged spleen, HIV infection, chronic illness or who have weakened immune systems.

BEFORE STARTING PREVNAR 13™

Tell your child's health care provider about all of your child's medical conditions, including:

- Previous allergic or adverse reactions to other vaccines.
- Certain conditions that weaken your child's immune system such as a damaged spleen, HIV infection, cancer, or kidney problems. Children with weakened immune systems may have a reduced immune response to Prevnar 13™.

Tell your child's health care provider about all the medicines your child takes, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins and herbal supplements.

Especially tell your child's health care provider if your child is taking medicines that can weaken his or her immune system such as steroids (e.g., prednisone) and cancer medicines or if your child is undergoing radiation therapy.

WHO SHOULD RECEIVE PREVNAR 13™?

- Prevnar 13™ is recommended for children 6 weeks through 5 years of age.
- Prevnar 13™ is regularly given as a 4-dose series at 2, 4, 6, and 12 to 15 months of age.
- Transition schedule: Children who have received one or more doses of Prevnar® (Pneumococcal 7-valent Conjugate Vaccine [Diphtheria CRM<sub>197</sub> Protein]) may complete the 4-dose immunization series with Prevnar 13<sup>TM</sup>.
- Catch-up Schedule: Children 15 months through 5 years of age who have received 4 doses of Prevnar® may receive one dose of Prevnar 13™ to elicit immune responses to the six additional strains.
- The immune response from the transition or catch-up schedules might be lower for the 6 additional strains (types 1, 3, 5, 6A, 7F, and 19A) than if your child had received the full 4 doses of Prevnar 13™. It's not known how medically important this difference is.

WHO SHOULD NOT RECEIVE PREVNAR 13™?

- Children under 6 weeks of age and over 6 years of age.
- Children who have had a serious allergic reaction to any component of Prevnar 13™, Prevnar®, or any diphtheria toxoid–containing vaccine.

POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF PREVNAR 13™

Prevnar 13™ may cause serious side effects including:

- Temporary pause of breathing in some infants born prematurely
- Bronchiolitis (an infection of the lungs)
- Gastroenteritis (inflammation of the stomach and small intestine)
- Pneumonia

The most common side effects of Prevnar $13^{TM}$ are:

- Redness, swelling and tenderness at the injection site
- Fever Decreased appetite Irritability
- Increased sleep Decreased sleep

Any side effects associated with the vaccination should be reported to your child's health care provider. These are not all of the possible side effects of Prevnar 13™. For a complete list, ask your child's health care provider.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT TECHNOLOGY FROM A PLUGGED-IN MOM

Making Allowances

Going to the mall with my son and daughter used to be like venturing near a fiscal Bermuda Triangle— all the cash in my wallet mysteriously vanished without a trace, never to be seen again.

This phenomenon continued for years until I decided to give each kid a monthly allowance. Not the pittance I got when I was growing up—Cole, 14, and Ava, 11, get $100 each. Now before you think I've lost my mind, this covers everything—clothes, haircuts, books, music, video games, fast food, whatever. It's a major chunk of change for me to part with every 30 days, but worth every penny, because they no longer have to ask me for anything. I simply say, "It's your money.

Spend it wisely." And generally, they do.

It's been a kick, watching two fascinating financial personalities emerge. At first Ava blew every cent immediately, except for the 30% that went straight to her savings account. Then she'd have spender's remorse. Over time she learned. "Wow! I really went on a shopping spree," she told me recently when she discovered she was broke. "It was fun. but I'll slow down next month."

Cole was a different story. Initially, he hoarded his cash, refusing to part with a dime. He stopped cutting his hair. His clothes got shabby. The only time he got candy was if his sister took pity on him. He stashed his money so carefully that later he couldn't find it and accused us all of robbing him. Who knew Ebenezer Scrooge was living in my house?

He's a digital kid, so I moved him to a digital allowance. (For details, see "Plastic Pointers," above.) Now I transfer his allowance from my bank account to a prepaid PayPal MasterCard. If he loses the card, he doesn't lose any cash. He can have his current balance and recent transactions texted to his cell phone. And, because it works like a credit card, he can shop online, which he likes. He still can't bring himself to pay for a trim or new pants, but when it comes to downloading music and games, he's as free-spending as his sister ever was.

Bottom line: My system not only eliminates pestering, it also buys peace of mind that I'm doing my best to raise kids who understand the value of a dollar.

athleen Ganster likes nothing better than eating dinner alfresco and taking a stroll with her husband after work. So when the day is done, Kathleen, 52, and Paul Sauers, 53, drive home from their jobs in Pittsburgh—she's a journalism teacher, he's a chemist—and head for the Hampton hills. "A typical evening for us is to walk 5 miles—we keep shorts and hiking boots in the car—then grill dinner in the backyard and maybe invite friends over for dessert," Kathleen says. Sometimes, though, they'll take in a Pirates or Steelers game with her kids, Eliza, 20, Kenton, 18, and Cole, 16.

(Paul's daughters, Christina, 23, and Elizabeth, 21, are away at college.) "You don't have to plan everything," Kathleen says. "The beauty of living here is that there are so many options, and you don't get stuck in traffic going from one place to the next." Hampton's stellar schools are another asset. Of the hundreds of area high school students who take Advanced Placement exams every year, 84% earn a score of 3 or higher. Eliza is a senior at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, Kenton will attend the Honors College there this fall, and Cole is thriving at Hampton High, which ranks among the top 3% of high schools nationwide. "I'm curious to see where all our kids will settle down," says Paul. "Call me biased, but Hampton has everything anyone could want." GOOD DEEDS This township really rallies around its teachers. t was serendipity that led Ted and Jennifer Gianaris to Edwardsville. In 1996 Ted had just graduated from law school, and the couple was looking for an affordable community within driving distance of his new job in St. Louis, Missouri. Then they noticed the "For Sale" sign in front of a charming Victorian house with a park nearby and an elementary school around the corner for their 6-year-old, Annie. Today there are six kids in all— Annie, now 21; Jake, 14; Elliott, 12; Sophie, 10; Auggie, 7; and Abe, 5. Jennifer's three sisters and her parents, as well as Ted's, followed their lead and have moved here too. "My mom loves to go to the bookstores and to the YMCA to work out," says Jen, 45, a former nurse. "Even though this is a university town, it's the perfect place for all generations." Kids and grown-ups love the Y's new 116,000-square-foot recreational facility, which has an indoor climbing wall, tennis courts and a roller before driving to Wisconsin to visit her ailing father, the repair shop did the job in 20 minutes—and refused to take her money. "They wanted me to get on the road and be with my dad," she says. Ann, 49, and Randy, 52, an energy company executive, moved to Windsor in 1994 because of the good schools and small-town feel. With its neighborhood ice cream socials and front-lawn lemonade stands, the town has more than lived up to expectations. When Alex graduated from Windsor High in May, his parents asked which teachers he wanted to invite to his party. Alex named more than two dozen, going all the way back to kindergarten. "Everyone here reaches out to one another, and we're all connected," says Ann. "This is a place with a big heart." GOOD DEEDS After the high school marching band was invited in 2008 to Obama's impending inaugural parade, the community raised $140,000, enough to send 78 kids-Alex (alto sax) and Jacob (trumpet) included—to D.C.

At Heritage Park, residents not only enjoy summer concerts but can also pick oranges in historic citrus groves. "You're with family and friends, out in the sun and having fun-what's not to like?" says Lynn Del Toro, 54. Husband George, 55, who manages a local water municipality, thinks of La Verne as a cozy little village. "The best thing about living here is the friendships we've built," he says. The couple, along with son Lucas, 15, and daughter Noel, Lucas' high school freshman class, for example, didn't just read Homer's Odyssey. "They acted out scenes in our city pool on a floating stage made of recyclable 2-liter soda bottles and set the whole thing to 1980s music as part of a cross-curriculum English, science and social studies project," says George. "That's a

The Saldivars' weekends revolve around taking daughters Amron, 17, and Sammie, 16, to varsity volleyball and softball games, where a good time is had by all. "We always see lots of people we know," says Gene, 43, a data manager who moved his family to Round Rock (aka Silicon Hills) 12 years ago because of its high-tech industries.

"Sometimes a dad will bring a grill and the entire team will eat out there. Parents here are involved with their kids, whether it's sports or school." Norma, 43, a FedEx courier, is copresident the volleyball booster club, and Gene coaches Sammie's team. # MAKING THE GRADE

The Great Schools rating listed in each town's information box is based on performance on standardized tests by local elementary, middle and high schools relative to other schools in the state, based on a scale of 1 to 10. A rating of 10 means that overall test scores are as good as, or better than, 90% of scores elsewhere. The ratings are provided by GreatSchools.net, a nonprofit website with a mission to improve education by inspiring parents to get involved. To find out how your child's school is doing, go to the site and enter your school's name and state for test results according to grade, stats on student-teacher ratios and diversity, and parent reviews.

t may take a village to raise a child, but all that's required to help fight hunger in the United States is a handful of seeds, a tiny patch of land (or a corner of a balcony) and a willingness to get your hands dirty. Make no mistake, the problem is urgent. Approximately 49 million people in this country—including nearly 17 million children—experience what's called food insecurity, sometimes having to skip meals or eat less than what's necessary to stay active and healthy. But these determined women have found a way to transform lives, one garden at a time. by Shelley Levitt

LAURA MARKS, 40

Bloomington, Indiana Cofounder and board member, Mother Hubbard's Cupboard

- Mission Provides wholesome food to people in need, along with gardening and nutrition education.
- ORoots of the idea In 1998 Laura Marks was a 27-year-old mother of two daughters, ages 1 and 3, earning $12,000 a year. She fed her family with the help of food stamps. "I knew there were other people trying to prepare healthy meals on very limited incomes," Laura says. "I thought if we all pitched in we could help each other." Laura and a friend, Jessica Mott, began picking up items that were left on the shelves of a local food bank-soy milk, Greek yogurt, dried beans and unusual grains like quinoa—and distributing them from Jessica's garage to low-income women who were pregnant or caring for young children. As friendships grew, an informal garden club formed. "I was growing okra, squash and tomatoes in our yard," Laura recalls. "I'd say to the other moms, 'Bring the kids and come hang out." The women, some of whom lived in housing projects or even in their cars, accepted the invitation. "If there were vegetables needing to be picked, we'd do that together and everyone would take some home."
- A cause blossoms By 2000 Laura's distribution project became an official nonprofit. With the help of a city grant, the agency started two community gardens two years later and eventually began offering gardening and nutrition workshops. Today Laura's organization runs more than 60 classes annually on everything from how to start seedlings, to composting, baking bread and raising chickens.
- The harvest In the past nine years the community gardens have grown around 12,000 pounds of organic produce, and hundreds of families have discovered a passion for raising their own food. "After just one class people have skills they can apply right away," says Laura, "like knowing when garlic is ready to pull or how to weed a plot." Several hundred volunteers help over the course of a year (about 150) at any given time), an estimated 80% of them clients of the pantry. Laura's daughters, now 14 and 16, often pitch in with the fundraising (through events like concerts and bike marathons) necessary to buy staples that don't grow in gardens, such as milk, eggs and grains. "This is our way of life," says Laura. "When you teach people to eat healthy and grow their own food, you help them change their whole lives."

JONI OHTA DISERENS, 46

San Jose, California Founder and executive director, Village Harvest

- Mission Distributes unwanted fruit from backyard trees to food agencies.
- Roots of the idea "A community service project run amok" is how Joni Ohta Diserens describes the beginnings of Village Harvest in the spring of 2001. For years she had been leading tween and teen girls from 4-H groups on field trips through her neighborhood, teaching them how to find fruit that would otherwise go to waste, then preserve it. "I had grown up as a 4-H kid myself in Hawaii," she says, "and to me it was second nature that when there's an overabundance of fruit you process it to use in the winter."

O A cause blossoms "As word spread that a group of teens were interested in picking unwanted fruit," Joni says, "my phone rang nonstop with calls from home owners who wanted us to come take away their extras." Many were elderly or physically limited and, unable to pick the fruit themselves, had watched bushels fall and rot every season. "We couldn't turn it all into jam so I contacted a local food bank and offered to give them most of what we had," Joni says. "They weren't sure their clients would want fruit from individuals' homes, but they were willing to give it a try." Within days 22 volunteers had gathered 1,200 pounds of oranges, lemons, grapefruit and tangerines from

My asthma... under control with the help of SYMBICORT.

When my symptoms came back, my doctor and I chose SYMBICORT to help improve my lung function.

SYMBICORT helps me breathe better all day, starting within 15 minutes.* It won't replace a rescue inhaler for sudden symptoms. Unlike most controller medicines, SYMBICORT combines two medicines to help control inflammation and constriction.

* Your results may vary.

Ask your doctor if SYMBICORT is a good choice for you.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT SYMBICORT

Important Safety Information About SYMBICORT for Asthma

SYMBICORT contains formoterol, a long-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonist (LABA). Medicines containing LABAs may increase the chance of asthmarelated death. So, SYMBICORT should be used only if your health care professional decides another asthma-controller medicine alone does not control your asthma or you need two controller medicines.

While taking SYMBICORT, never use another medicine containing a LABA.

SYMBICORT won't replace rescue inhalers for sudden asthma symptoms. Do not use SYMBICORT more than twice a day. If you are taking SYMBICORT, see your health care professional if your asthma does not improve or gets worse.

Some people may experience increased blood pressure, heart rate, or change in heart rhythm. Tell your doctor if you have a heart condition or high blood pressure. If you are switching to SYMBICORT from an oral corticosteroid, follow your doctor's instructions to avoid health risks when you stop using oral corticosteroids.

Avoid exposure to infections such as chicken pox or measles. Tell your health care professional immediately if you are exposed.

In clinical studies, common side effects included nose and throat irritation, headache, upper respiratory tract infection, sore throat, sinusitis, and stomach discomfort.

Approved Uses for SYMBICORT for Asthma

Prescription SYMBICORT is a controller medicine for the long-term maintenance treatment of asthma. SYMBICORT is for people 12 years and older whose doctor has decided are not well controlled on another asthma-controller medicine or who need two asthma-controller medicines. SYMBICORT is not for the treatment of sudden asthma symptoms.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT SYMBICORT

Please read this summary carefully and then ask your doctor about SYMBICORT.

No advertisement can provide all the information needed to determine if a drug is right for you or take the place of careful discussions with your health care professional. Only your health care professional has the training to weigh the risks and benefits of a prescription drug.

WHAT IS THE MOST IMPORTANT INFORMATION I SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SYMBICORT?

In patients with asthma, long-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonist (LABA) medicines, such as formoterol (one of the medicines in SYMBICORT), may increase the chance of death from asthma problems. In a large asthma study, more patients who used another LABA medicine died from asthma problems, compared with patients who did not use that LABA medicine. Talk with your health care professional about this risk and the benefits of treating your asthma with SYMBICORT.

SYMBICORT does not relieve sudden symptoms, so you should always have a fast-acting inhaler (short-acting beta_-agonist medicine) with you. If you do not have this type of inhaler, talk with your health care professional to have one prescribed for you.

Get emergency medical care if your breathing problems worsen quickly and your fast-acting inhaler does not relieve them.

Do not stop using SYMBICORT unless your health care professional tells you to stop because your symptoms might get worse.

WHAT IS SYMBICORT?

SYMBICORT is an inhaled prescription medicine taken twice a day, every day, over long periods of time to control asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

Asthma

SYMBICORT 80/4.5 mcg or 160/4.5 mcg is used long-term, two times each day, to control symptoms of asthma and prevent symptoms such as wheezing in patients age 12 years and older.

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease

COPD is a chronic lung disease that includes chronic bronchitis, emphysema, or both. SYMBICORT 160/4.5 mcg is used every day, two times each day, to help improve lung function for better breathing in adults with COPD.

SYMBICORT contains two medicines:

- Budesonide (the same medicine found in PULMICORT FLEXHALER™ [budesonide inhalation powder]), an inhaled corticosteroid medicine, or ICS. ICS medicines help to decrease inflammation in the lungs. Inflammation in the lungs can lead to asthma symptoms
- Formoterol (the same medicine found in Foradil® Aerolizer®) is a long-acting beta, agonist medicine, or LABA. LABA medicines are used in patients with COPD and asthma. LABA medicines help the muscles in the airways of your lungs stay relaxed to prevent asthma symptoms, such as wheezing and shortness of breath. These symptoms can happen when the muscles in the airways tighten. This makes it hard to breathe, which, in severe cases, can cause breathing to stop completely if not treated right away

WHO SHOULD NOT TAKE SYMBICORT?

You should not take SYMBICORT if your health care professional decides that your asthma or COPD is well controlled using another medicine, or you only use a fast-acting inhaler once in a while.

Do not use SYMBICORT to treat sudden severe symptoms of asthma or COPD or if you are allergic to any of the ingredients in SYMBICORT.

WHAT SHOULD I TELL MY HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONAL BEFORE USING SYMBICORT?

Tell your health care professional about all of your health conditions, including if you

- have heart problems
- have high blood pressure
- have seizures
- have thyroid problems
- have diabetes
- have liver problems
- have osteoporosis
- have an immune system problem
- are allergic to any medications
- are exposed to chicken pox or measles
- are pregnant or planning to become pregnant because it is not known if SYMBICORT may harm your unborn baby
- are breast-feeding because it is not known if SYMBICORT passes into your milk and if it can harm your baby. You and your health care professional should decide if you will be taking SYMBICORT while breast-feeding

Tell your health care professional about ALL the medicines you are taking, including all your prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements.

SYMBICORT and certain other medicines may interact with each other and can cause serious side effects. Be sure to keep track of ALL the medication you take. You might want to make a list and show it to your health care professional, including your pharmacist, each time you get any new medicine, just to be sure there are no potential drug interactions.

HOW DO I USE SYMBICORT?

Do not use SYMBICORT unless your health care professional has carefully demonstrated how to do so. If you have any questions concerning the use of SYMBICORT, ask your health care professional. SYMBICORT should be taken twice (2 puffs each time) every day as prescribed by your health care professional.

SYMBICORT comes in two strengths for asthma: 80/4.5 mcg and 160/4.5 mcg. Your health care professional will prescribe the strength that is best for you. SYMBICORT 160/4.5 mcg is the approved dosage for COPD.

- Make sure that you rinse your mouth with water after each dose (two puffs) of SYMBICORT without swallowing and spit the water out
- Do not change or stop any of the medicines you use to control or treat your breathing problems. Your health care professional will adjust your medicines as needed
- Do not spray SYMBICORT in your eyes. If you accidentally get SYMBICORT in your eyes, rinse your eyes with water. If redness or irritation persists, call your health care professional
- Always have a fast-acting inhaler with you. Use it if you have breathing problems between doses of SYMBICORT

Seek emergency medical care if

- your breathing problems worsen quickly and your fast-acting inhaler does not relieve your breathing problems
- you experience any symptoms of a serious allergic reaction to SYMBICORT, such as a rash; hives; swelling of the face, mouth, or tongue; or breathing problems

Contact your health care professional if

- you need to use your fast-acting inhaler more often than usual
- your fast-acting inhaler does not work as well for you at relieving symptoms
- you need to use four or more inhalations of your fast-acting inhaler for 2 or more days in a row
- you use up your entire fast-acting inhaler canister within 8 weeks
- your peak-flow meter results decrease. Your health care professional will tell you the numbers that are right for you
- your asthma symptoms do not improve after using SYMBICORT regularly for 1 week
- you have COPD and notice any symptoms such as increase in mucus or change in mucus color, fever, chills, increased cough, or increased breathing problems because these symptoms may mean you have pneumonia or another lung infection

WHAT MEDICATIONS SHOULD I NOT TAKE WHEN USING SYMBICORT?

While you are using SYMBICORT, do not use other medicines that contain a long-acting beta, agonist (LABA) for any reason, such as

- Serevent® Diskus® (salmeterol xinafoate inhalation powder)
- Advair Diskus® or Advair® HFA (fluticasone propionate and salmeterol)
- Formoterol-containing products such as Foradil® Aerolizer®, Brovana®, or Perforomist®

WHAT ARE OTHER IMPORTANT SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS WITH SYMBICORT?

- Increased risk of pneumonia if you have COPD
- Eye problems, such as glaucoma and cataracts. Regular eye exams should be considered while using SYMBICORT
- Osteoporosis. People at risk for increased bone loss may have a greater risk with SYMBICORT
- Slowed growth in children. As a result, growth should be carefully monitored
- Immune system effects and a higher chance for infections
- Cardiovascular and central nervous system effects of LABAs, such as chest pain, increased blood pressure, fast or irregular heartbeat, tremor, or nervousness

WHAT ARE OTHER POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS WITH SYMBICORT?

Adults and children age 12 years and older with asthma

- Headache
- Sore throat
- Oral thrush
- Upper respiratory tract infection

Patients with COPD

Oral thrush

Long-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonists may increase the risk of asthma-related death. Tell your health care professional about any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away. These are not all the side effects with SYMBICORT. Ask your health care professional for more information.

The harvest Since 2002 the nonprofit has delivered over 2.2 million servings of fruit to the hungry. In 2009, 173,000 pounds of fruit was harvested from the yards of 500 homes. Today there are 2,000 homes in their database and more than 900 volunteers, who range in age from 7 to 97. Even with all of the eager recipients, there is fruit left over each season, which volunteers make into thousands of jars of jam, jelly and marmalade. Sales of these supplement funds from grants and private donations. For Joni and her husband, Craig, the organization's secretary, treasurer and IT adviser, what's especially gratifying is the way the couple's two children, Sam, now 18, and Jacqui, 17. The Hirshbergs adopted the biological siblings, who were 9 and 10 and had serious behavior problems, in 2002. "We couldn't trust the kids with pets at first," says Holly, "so we gave them plants they could nurture, hoping that along the way they'd learn compassion and responsibility." It worked for the children—and also yielded bumper crops of cucumbers, tomatoes, red and yellow peppers, squash, watermelon and herbs. A cause blossoms As the recession deepened in the summer of 2008, Holly heard news reports that demand at the local food bank was up by about 60% while donations were way down. And, she learned, with gas prices soaring, even when there were enough supplies people couldn't afford the drive to pick them up. "I knew there had to be another, better way to feed people," Holly says. One day, looking at the abundance in her backyard, the answer came to her. "If I give people seeds, they could grow their own produce at home," she thought, "and they'd never again have to worry about running out." Holly discovered that if she bought in bulk, it would take just $5 worth of seeds to feed a family of seven fresh produce for a year. What's more, she found, it takes only 4 square feet of dirt to grow a 12-month supply of fruits and vegetables for one adult. "I concluded that the solution to a family's hunger," says Holly, "could be in their backyard."

- The harvest The Hirshbergs began distributing seeds in January 2009, through social agencies and businesses, to anyone who wanted them. Since then the organization has helped over 50,000 individuals, families and community gardens in all 50 states, with volunteers working alongside the Hirshberg family. The requirement to receive seeds is simple: "All we ask," says Holly, "is that if you grow something you're not going to eat, you give it to someone who will."

SCRAPES AND BRUISES ARE PART OF GROWING UP. BUT SOME THINGS DON'T HAVE TO BE.

As your preteen grows up, he or she will continue to need your protection. So it's important to know about the diseases that can affect your son or daughter:

- HPV (human papillomavirus): the virus that can cause cervical cancer, genital warts, and other HPV-related diseases
- BACTERIAL MENINGITIS: a very serious infection of the brain and spinal cord lining
- WHOOPING COUGH: a highly contagious, prolonged respiratory tract infection
- CHICKENPOX: a viral infection that causes fever and an itchy rash, which can turn into blisters

My daughter, Allison, and I were watching a trashy talk show together. But Allison, then 17, had no idea that it was more than just a guilty pleasure. As one of the teen guests on Maury revealed that she'd had sex with several boys and was pregnant, I saw Allison's eyes widen. "What do you think of that?" I asked. "I can't believe anyone would be so stupid," she replied with passion. "It's so awful and sad." I was amazed at how easy that was—she had discovered something I really wanted her to know, and I hardly had to say a word.

Forget the long lectures and the scheduled meetings. It might sound counterintuitive, but one of the best—and easiest—ways to bond with your child is by watching bad television. When my daughter and I are discussing the questionable antics of talk show guests or reality show contestants rather than the lives of her and her friends, she's more likely to listen and to speak honestly about herself.

Stumbling on this technique taught me that I should always be on the lookout for spontaneous moments of connection. "Preteens and teens need their parents as much, if not more, than they did when they were younger," says Michael Riera, Ph.D., author of Staying Connected to Your Teenager (De Capo Press). "But they hate anything that smacks of 'let's sit down and talk.' So you've got to be creative."

After my Maury success, I knew I was onto something, so I asked other parents of tweens and teens how they stay close with their kids. And if you can do as they do, you might just find there will be a whole lot more talking going on in your family.

th LINKED-IN MOVE sneak up from the side

"I used to ask John, my 15-year-old, all types of questions and just get a shrug," says Jackie Ghosen, from Buffalo, New York. "Then one day we took a walk together and the answers came rolling out. So I try to create opportunities to 'side talk.' I'll help him stuff inserts in his newspapers for his paper route or have him help me fold towels."

→ WHY IT WORKS Most teens are like John, says Riera. "Sitting straight across from kids and insisting on eye contact makes them feel judged and self-conscious," he explains. "But being able to look straight ahead at nothing gives them a comfort zone."

th LINKED-IN MOVE

"My girls love to chat online, even though I'm right in the next room," says Peggy Kriegel, a mother of 15-year-old twin daughters and a 4-year-old son, from Braselton, Georgia. "I'll IM something silly to one of the girls, and we'll go back and forth, and then when I ask how school was, I'll get more than a one-

→ WHY IT WORKS You're communicating on her terms, in her language. "If you're not sure what you're doing, all the better," says Lisa Boesky, Ph.D., author of When to Worry (Amacom Books). "Ask your teen to teach you texting shortcuts, for example." And if your child is on a social networking site, have her give you a tour now and then. She may spill details you'd never hear otherwise.

th LINKED-IN MOVE help others together

"Sam loves to argue," says Deborah Lindner of Salt Lake City about her 15-year-old son. "But our whole family is crazy about dogs, so when my husband and I suggested we all volunteer at the Humane Society of Utah, there were no disagreements."

→ WHY IT WORKS Besides building family pride through altruism, volunteering is a way for you to give your teen positive feedback—a huge opportunity if you've been criticizing him a lot lately. The key to success is coming up with something everybody is interested in. Find ideas at thevolunteerfamily.org or in The Busy Family's Guide to Volunteering by Jenny Friedman (Robins Lane Press).

necessary business

You've found pot in your son's room or discovered that your daughter has been skipping school. Now you have to talk. How can you get your teen to open up—and listen to what you need to say? Try this advice from LISA BOESKY, PH.D.

→ Give yourself time to prepare.

Unless your child is in immediate danger, take a few hours to calm down and think. Also hold off if your teen comes home drunk or high. You can't accomplish anything until he's sober. If you have a spouse, discuss your views and agree on the consequences ahead of time. Then talk with your teen away from sibs and when there's not a big test the next day.

- → Keep it simple. Focus on what you heard, saw or have in your hand. Say, "I found this pot in your room. Can you tell me about it?" State your concerns clearly and directly, as in, "The school secretary said you weren't there today. What's going on?" Stay away from accusatory statements (as in, "You are ruining your life!"), which only make people defensive. Instead, use "I" statements like, "I'm worried that your grades have been slipping." Then listen.
- → Be willing to hear the truth.

  If your child gives an honest answer that's startling, try not to panic, judge or get angry.

  Otherwise, you're likely to hear,
  "I didn't tell you because I knew you'd freak out!"
- → Don't drag it out. If your child admits to wrongdoing, state your objections succinctly, as in, "Using pot is illegal and dangerous. I care about you and won't accept this behavior." Then be ready with a consequence. If he refuses to explain, calmly state, "I really want to hear what you have to say. But if you won't tell me, I can only assume the pot is yours." Then state what he has to do to regain your trust. Finally, remind him you're there if he needs you and try again in a few days. If he still won't open up, find another adult with whom he feels more comfortable. Of course, if it looks like your child has a drug or other mental health problem, consult his doctor.

And for extra credit, some smart ideas husband. "Sometimes I'll pay bills or read," she says, "but I'm right there when he says, 'Mom, you have to see this!"

→ WHY IT WORKS Sharing his interest shows him special respect. "You're giving the message, 'I'm intrigued with you as a person,'" says Ralph I. Lopez, M.D., clinical professor of pediatrics at New York City's Weill Cornell Medical Center. Don't worry if your kid acts lukewarm when you ask to play his new video game. His "whatever" really means "yes," says Riera. "He's just testing to make sure you're not faking it."

tith LINKED-IN MOVE schedule "date nights"

"At least once a month I insist on some one-on-one time with my kids," says Warren Augenstein, a dad from Houston. "I'll take my 11-year-old daughter to a play or a gallery opening, something her 14-year-old brother probably wouldn't enjoy. His favorite outing is a local high school ball game, so that's what we do."

→ WHY IT WORKS Three little words: All your attention. "Kids never outgrow the need to have your focus on them, at least for an evening," says Dr. Lopez. But remember that you're there to have fun, so keep the talk light. There's nothing like a lecture on homework habits to ruin an outing.

th LINKED-IN MOVE be there at bedtime

"Both my boys like to check in with me at the end of the day," says Lauren Mayer of San Mateo, California. "Ben, my 14-year-old, likes to talk about the next day's agenda, or something philosophical. His brother, David, who's 17, is a theater kid and he takes a lot of dance classes, so I'll give him a back rub. As he relaxes, he opens up."

→ WHY IT WORKS Even when kids are big, their defenses go down when they're tired, says Riera. And there's probably less competition for their attention when the house is quiet. They've also had a chance to reflect on their day—and may even be willing to tell you how they're feeling.

plugged-in parent

The talk will flow if you use these four basic strategies.

Skip the lecture.
You have about 60 seconds before your teen tunes you out.

Keep your ears open.
Be what Ralph I. Lopez,
M.D., calls "tellable."
That means consistently listening calmly without jumping in with judgmental comments. Instead, prompt him with short questions that show you're interested, such as, "So how did that make you feel?" Or, "Why do you think she said that?"

Watch your body language. Are your arms crossed? You could seem angry even if you're not, says Lisa Boesky, Ph.D. And don't stand over her when she's sitting or put your hands on your hips. Both feel overbearing.

Hang on to family meals. Sure, everyone is busy. But kids who can count on regular sit-downs are less likely to get into trouble and more likely to do well in school. Besides, your child wants your company.

MEDICATION GUIDE

VYVANSE®(lisdexamfetamine dimesylate) CII

Read the Medication Guide that comes with Vyvanse before you or your child starts taking it and each time you get a refill. There may be new information. This Medication Guide does not take the place of talking to your doctor about you or your child's treatment with Vyvanse.

What is the most important information I should know about Vyvanse? Vyvanse is a stimulant medicine. The following have been reported with use of stimulant medicines.

1. Heart-related problems:

- sudden death in patients who have heart problems or heart defects
- stroke and heart attack in adults
- increased blood pressure and heart rate

Tell your doctor if you or your child have any heart problems, heart defects, high blood pressure, or a family history of these problems.

Your doctor should check you or your child carefully for heart problems before starting Vyvanse.

Your doctor should check you or your child's blood pressure and heart rate regularly during treatment with Vyvanse.

Call your doctor right away if you or your child has any signs of heart problems such as chest pain, shortness of breath, or fainting while taking Vyvanse.

2. Mental (Psychiatric) problems:

All Patients

- new or worse behavior and thought problems
- new or worse bipolar illness
- new or worse aggressive behavior or hostility

Children and Teenagers

new psychotic symptoms (such as hearing voices, believing things that are not true, are suspicious) or new manic symptoms

Tell your doctor about any mental problems you or your child have, or about a family history of suicide, bipolar illness, or depression.

Call your doctor right away if you or your child have any new or worsening mental symptoms or problems while taking Vyvanse, especially seeing or hearing things that are not real, believing things that are not real, or are suspicious.

What Is Vyvanse?

Vyvanse is a central nervous system stimulant prescription medicine. It is used for the treatment of Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). Vyvanse may help increase attention and decrease impulsiveness and hyperactivity in patients with ADHD.

Vyvanse should be used as a part of a total treatment program for ADHD that may include counseling or other therapies.

Vyvanse is a federally controlled substance (CII) because it can be abused or lead to dependence. Keep Vyvanse in a safe place to prevent misuse and abuse. Selling or giving away Vyvanse may harm others, and is against the law.

Tell your doctor if you or your child have (or have a family history of) ever abused or been dependent on alcohol, prescription medicines or street drugs.

Who should not take Vyvanse?

Vyvanse should not be taken if you or your child:

- have heart disease or hardening of the arteries
- have moderate to severe high blood pressure
- have hyperthyroidism
- have an eye problem called glaucoma
- are very anxious, tense, or agitated
- · have a history of drug abuse
- are taking or have taken within the past 14 days an anti-depression medicine called a monoamine oxidase inhibitor or MAOI

is sensitive to, allergic to, or had a reaction to other stimulant medicines Vyvanse has not been studied in children less than 6 years old. Vyvanse is not recommended for use in children less than 3 years old.

Vyvanse may not be right for you or your child. Before starting Vyvanse tell your or your child's doctor about all health conditions (or a family history of) including:

- heart problems, heart defects, high blood pressure
- mental problems including psychosis, mania, bipolar illness, or depression
- liver or kidney problems
- thyroid problems
  - seizures or have had an abnormal brain wave test (EEG)
- tics or Tourette's syndrome

Tell your doctor if you or your child is pregnant, planning to become pregnant, or breastfeeding.

Can Vyvanse be taken with other medicines?

Tell your doctor about all of the medicines that you or your child take including prescription and non-prescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. Vyvanse and some medicines may interact with each other and cause serious side effects. Sometimes the doses of other medicines will need to be adjusted while taking Vyvanse.

Your doctor will decide whether Vyvanse can be taken with other medicines.

Especially tell your doctor if you or your child takes:

- · anti-depression medicines including MAOIs
- · blood pressure medicines · seizure medicines
- anti-psychotic medicines
- lithium narcotic pain medicines

Know the medicines that you or your child takes. Keep a list of your medicines with you to show your doctor and pharmacist.

Do not start any new medicine while taking Vyvanse without talking to your doctor first.

How should Vyvanse be taken?

- Take Vyvanse exactly as prescribed. Vyvanse comes in 6 different strength capsules. Your doctor may adjust the dose until it is right for you or your child.
- Take Vyvanse once a day in the morning.
- Vyvanse can be taken with or without food.
- From time to time, your doctor may stop Vyvanse treatment for a while to check ADHD symptoms.
- Your doctor may do regular checks of the blood, heart, and blood pressure while taking Vyvanse. Children should have their height and weight checked often while taking Vyvanse. Vyvanse treatment may be stopped if a problem is found during these check-ups.
- If you or your child takes too much Vyvanse or overdoses, call your doctor or poison control center right away, or get emergency treatment.

What are possible side effects of Vyvanse?

See "What is the most important information I should know about Vyvanse?" for information on reported heart and mental problems.

Other serious side effects include:

- slowing of growth (height and weight) in children
- seizures, mainly in patients with a history of seizures
- eyesight changes or blurred vision

Common side effects include:

- upper belly pain
- nausea
- · dry mouth
- dizziness
- weight loss decreased appetite
- trouble sleeping vomiting irritability Vyvanse may affect your or your child's ability to drive or do other dangerous activities. Talk to your doctor if you or your child has side effects that are bothersome or do not go away.

This is not a complete list of possible side effects. Ask your doctor or pharmacist for more information.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

How should I store Vyvanse?

- Store Vyvanse in a safe place at room temperature, 59 to 86° F (15 to 30° C). Protect from light.
- Keep Vyvanse and all medicines out of the reach of children.

General information about Vyvanse

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Medication Guide. Do not use Vyvanse for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give Vyvanse to other people, even if they have the same condition. It may harm them and it is against the law.

This Medication Guide summarizes the most important information about Vyvanse. If you would like more information, talk with your doctor. You can ask your doctor or pharmacist for information about Vyvanse that was written for healthcare professionals. For more information about Vyvanse, please contact Shire US Inc. at 1-800-828-2088.

Consider raising your car, home and health insurance deductibles, says Stacy Johnson, author of Life or Debt 2010: A New Path to Financial Freedom (Pocket Books). #### HOME IMPROVEMENT

Help your wallet—and the earth—by making your home more energy efficient.

Even small tweaks can make a major dent in your monthly bills. And if you decide to do major improvements, you could earn government rebates of up to $3,000, thanks to President Obama's new Homestar program. Kathleen Kuhn, president of HouseMaster, one of the largest home inspection companies in North America, shares how homeowners can make DIY upgrades.

- *Buy a programmable thermostat (available at hardware stores for less than $50). The average family spends 50% to 70% of its utility bill on cooling and heating, so the device will quickly pay for itself.
- * Change the filters in your furnace and air conditioners regularly. They use more energy when clogged because of restricted airflow.
- People overlook the need for insulation in attics, especially during the summer. Heat rises to the attic and gets drawn back into the home, forcing air conditioners to work harder. In winter, heat rises and escapes through the roof.
- * According to the Department of Energy, leaks in windows and doors are responsible for 5% to 30% of a home's energy loss. Drafts are often found around windows and doors; where you see cracks or weather stripping; or by plumbing or electrical fixtures near exterior walls. Seal leaks by caulking.
- $\text{Lowering the water temperature just 20 degrees can slash water-heating costs up to 10%. Buy a special insulating blanket for the water heater—Kuhn recommends Duck Brand—from any hardware store for $10 to $20.

health care

In 2009 the average American family spent more than $1,400 out-of-pocket on medical bills. More important: Nine out of 10 health care bills contain errors. Next time you receive a statement, visit medicalcostadvocate.com. The free site gets money back for about 85% of customers by negotiating on the patient's behalf. Derek Fitteron, CEO of Medical Cost Advocate, explains how to check your health care bills for accuracy.

- Always request an itemized statement from your provider to scan for redundant charges. If there are any unidentified or miscellaneous amounts, ask for the complete details.
- Make sure all of the procedures listed were actually done.
- If a price seems particularly high, research the average cost. A good place to start is the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid site, cms.gov (although it lists the lowest prices). If you think you've been overcharged, you may be able to bring the amount down.

BILL OF HEALTH

* To see if your medical and dental expenditures qualify you for a tax deduction, track your expenses at changehealthcare.com. When you reach 7.5% of your adjusted gross income, the site automatically sends you a report to help you fill out your taxes.

TALK IS CHEAP

- Recycle old cell phones on yourenew.com and get cash back—two cell phones earn you an average of $65. List your model, answer a few quick questions, and enter your e-mail address, mailing address and choice of payment. The site even provides a shipping label.
- * Slash cell phone bills in minutes on cellbills.com, which examines phone usage and then recommends the most cost-efficient plan.

Patient Information SINGULAIR® (SING-u-lair) Tablets, Chewable Tablets, and Oral Granules Generic name: montelukast (mon-te-LOO-kast) sodium

Read this information before you start taking SINGULAIR®, Also, read the leaflet you get each time you refill SINGULAIR, since there may be new information in the leaflet since the last time you saw it. This leaflet does not take the place of talking with your doctor about your medical condition and/or your treatment.

What is SINGULAIR*

SINGULAIR is a medicine called a leukotriene SINGULAIR is a medicine called a leukotriene receptor antagonist. It works by blocking substances in the body called leukotrienes. Blocking leukotrienes improves asthma and allergic rhinitis. SINGULAIR is not a steroid. Studies have shown that SINGULAIR does not affect the growth rate of children. (See the end of this leaflet for more information about asthma and allergic rhinitis.)

SINGULAIR is prescribed for the treatment of asthma, the prevention of exercise-induced asthma, and allergic rhinitis:

1. Asthma

SINGULAIR should be used for the long-term management of asthma in adults and children ages 12 months and older.

Do not take SINGULAIR for the immediate relief of an asthma attack. If you get an asthma attack, you should follow the instructions your doctor gave you for treating asthma attacks.

2. Prevention of exercise-induced asthma. SINGULAIR is used for the prevention of exercise-induced asthma in patients 15 years of age and older.

3. Allergic Rhinitis.
SINGULAIR is used to help control the symptoms of allergic rhinitis (sneezing, stuffy nose, runny nose, itching of the nose). SINGULAIR is used to treat seasonal allergic rhinitis (outdoor allergies that happen part of the year) in adults and children ages 2 years and older, and perennial allergic rhinitis (indoor allergies that happen all year) in adults and children ages 6 months and older.

Who should not take SINGULAIR?

Do not take SINGULAIR if you are allergic to SINGULAIR or any of its ingredients

The active ingredient in SINGULAIR is montelukast

See the end of this leaflet for a list of all the ingredients

What should I tell my doctor before I start taking SINGULAIR?

Tell your doctor about:

- Pregnancy: If you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant, SINGULAIR may not be right for you.

  Breast-feeding: If you are breast-feeding,
- SINGULAIR may be passed in your milk to your baby. You should consult your doctor before taking SINGULAIR if you are breast-feeding or intend to breast-feed.
- Medical Problems or Allergies: Talk about any medical problems or allergies you have now or had in the past.
- Other Medicines: Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and non-prescription medicines, and herbal supplements. Some medicines may affect how SINGULAIR works, or SINGULAIR may affect how your other medicines work.

How should I take SINGULAIR?

For adults and children 12 months of age and older with asthma:

- Take SINGULAIR once a day in the evening. Take SINGULAIR every day for as long as your doctor prescribes it, even if you have no asthma symptoms

Young people do everything online. Like order millions of magazines.

Somehow, amidst their infatuation with Facebook, YouTube, Twitter and the like, young adults are still making time for another one of their favorite pursuits: reading magazines.

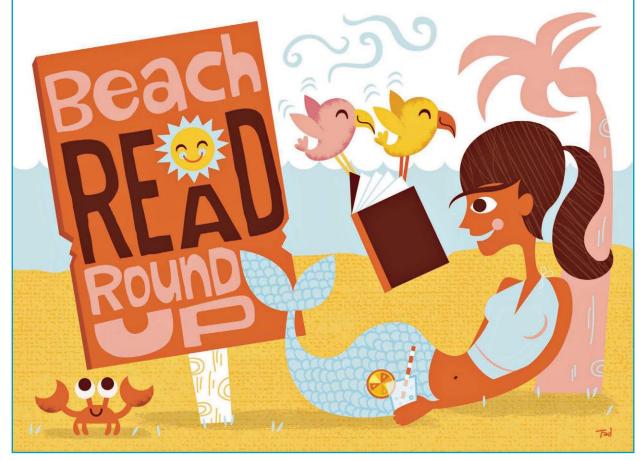

Contrary to popular misperception, the phenomenal popularity of the Internet has not come at the expense of magazines. Readership is actually increasing, and adults between 18 and 34 are among the most dedicated readers. They equal or surpass their over-34 counterparts in issues read per month and time spent per issue.

What's changed isn't people's affinity for magazines but the means by which they acquire them. Last year, nearly 22 percent of all new paid subscriptions were ordered online.

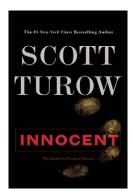

And just as the Internet drives magazine subscriptions, magazines drive Web searches – with nearly double the effectiveness of the Internet itself. Some might call it ironic.

The medium that some predicted would vanquish magazines is actually helping fuel their growth. And vice versa.

Innocent, by Scott Turow (Grand Central Publishing)

While you probably haven't been wondering about Rusty Sabich, the protagonist of 1987's Presumed Innocent, now that he's back you're glad to see him. (Even if he's once again cheating.) Turow does a masterful job of rehashing the past as a way of drawing us back into this thrilling courtroom chess match.

Talking to Girls About Duran Duran, by Rob Sheffield (Dutton Adult)

As it was in his debut book, Love Is a Mix Tape, music is the thread that stitches together Rob Sheffield's memories. Reminiscences of Hall & Oates, assorted one-hit wonders, and, of course, plenty of references to the "Hungry Like the Wolf" hunks, pepper a touchingly funny memoir of Sheffield's teenage years.

The Nobodies Album, by Carolyn Parkhurst (Doubleday)

Did he or didn't he? That is what novelist Octavia Frost, the charming but somewhat unreliable narrator, is trying to figure out. While unraveling the truth about her estranged rock-star son, Milo, and his murdered girlfriend, Octavia attempts to rewrite her family's tragic history in this gripping modern mystery.

The Particular Sadness of Lemon Cake, by Aimee Bender (Doubleday)

On the eve of her 9th birthday, Rose find herself gifted with a curse: She can taste people's feelings in the food they prepare. And while the inner life of her family members—especially her unfulfilled mother—becomes almost too much for her to stomach, Rose eventually finds a palatable peace. # Is Diabetic Nerve Pain keeping you out of the game?

Diabetes damages nerves which may cause a unique type of pain.*

Lyrica is believed to work on these damaged nerves.

*Artist depiction of diabetic nerve pain symptoms

Move towards relief with Lyrica.

Burning, throbbing symptoms in your hands or feet? Lyrica is FDA approved to effectively treat Diabetic Nerve Pain. Over-the-counter pain relief pills are not FDA approved to treat this unique kind of pain. Lyrica studies showed that patients had less Diabetic Nerve Pain and felt better.

Start the Lyrica conversation with your doctor today.

Prescription Lyrica is not for everyone. Tell your doctor right away about any serious allergic reaction that causes swelling of the face, mouth, lips, gums, tongue, throat or neck or any trouble breathing or that affects your skin. Lyrica may cause suicidal thoughts or actions in a very small number of people. Call your doctor right away if you have new or worsening depression, suicidal thoughts or actions, or unusual changes in mood or behavior. Lyrica may cause swelling of your hands, legs and feet. Some of the most common side effects of Lyrica are dizziness and sleepiness. Do not drive or work with machines until you know how Lyrica affects you. Other common side effects are blurry vision, weight gain, trouble concentrating, dry mouth, and feeling "high." Also, tell your doctor right away about muscle pain along with feeling sick and feverish, or any changes in your eyesight including blurry vision or any skin sores if you have diabetes. You may have a higher chance of swelling, hives or gaining weight if you are also taking certain diabetes or high blood pressure medicines. Do not drink alcohol while taking Lyrica. You may have more dizziness and sleepiness if you take Lyrica with alcohol, narcotic pain medicines, or medicines for anxiety. If you have had a drug or alcohol problem, you may be more likely to misuse Lyrica. Tell your doctor if you are planning to father a child. Talk with your doctor before you stop taking Lyrica or any other prescription medication.

Brush up on the proper way to clean your pet's pearly whites with our step-by-step guide.

You brush your teeth every day—but what about your dog's or cat's? "Most people have no idea that taking care of a pet's teeth will extend the animal's life," says Larry Corry, DV.M., president of the American Veterinary Medical Association. "In fact, periodontal disease is the most commonly diagnosed problem in dogs and cats." Left unchecked, periodontitis can lead to painful infections, and in severe cases, become life-threatening. That's because harmful mouth bacteria can enter the bloodstream and inflame other parts of the body. But don't fret about your pet—it takes only a few minutes of brushing weekly to keep his chompers healthy. Follow our tips for getting your pet's mouth squeaky clean. Bonus: no more doggy (or kitty) breath!

TEETH TECHNIQUES

- Start brushing your pet's teeth as soon as you get him. The routine is the same for cats and dogs, just go slower with cats, suggests Brook A. Niemiec, D.V.M., since they are less receptive to brushing than dogs.
- Begin by placing your fingers just inside his lips. Gradually build up to running your fingers along his teeth and gums. Reward him with a food treat, since eating helps scrape the tartar off of teeth, and the prize keeps the experience positive. Repeat with a child's soft toothbrush or one specially designed for animals.

• Get your dog or cat some veterinary toothpaste, which you can buy at the

DOES MY PET NEED A DENTIST?

Like humans, pets can get cavities. At home, examine your pet's mouth every time you brush his teeth. Bad breath is the most common sign of periodontal disease. Other red flags include yellow or brown plaque where the tooth meets the gum line, red or bleeding gums, or a swollen face. "Even if your pet is in pain, he will usually still eat normally," says Dr. Brook A. Niemiec. "Don't use his appetite as a guide to alert you that something is wrong." Your vet should do a thorough oral exam during the annual visit. Small dogs need their mouths checked every six months because their teeth are closer together and at greater risk of infection. If your vet discovers serious problems, he'll refer you to a veterinary dentist, who is often covered by pet insurance.

vet's office or at a pet supply store. Don't use your own toothpaste—animals don't like the taste and the ingredients can end up giving them a stomachache. Let him taste the toothpaste, then run your finger along his gums. Avoid placing your hand all the way inside his mouth.

- Position the toothbrush near the upper back teeth and angle slightly up, so the bristles get under the gum line. Work from back to front, making small circles along gums. For cats, pay special attention to canine teeth, the long fangs in the front, and the back molars. Leave the toothpaste on the teeth—no rinsing!—since the enzymes in the paste help dissolve tartar.
- Keep it short. Brush for only a minute or two, two to three times per week, says Dr. Corry—just be sure to hit all the tooth surfaces and the gums. After brushing is complete, always provide another treat.

Movie legends Katharine Hepburn and Diane Keaton once cornered the market on memorable menswear

It's an unexpected finishing touch for practically any summer outfit. Find this style, $70, and many others at hatattack.com.

PLUCK OF THE DRAW

Prevent breakouts with this friendly reminder from brow-guru-to-the-stars Ramy Gafni: Before you start, carefully rub astringent over the eyebrow area, then swipe an alcohol-soaked pad over the tip of the tweezers to stop bacteria from spreading.

ABSOLUTELY, says Joel Warren, co-owner of Warren-Tricomi salon in New York City. Sun exposure is as bad for your strands as it is for your skin. It can do major damage, causing dull color, frizz, breakage and split ends. Just like in sunscreen, UV filters either absorb or reflect the rays, which results in healthier locks.

In the Flesh Not all nudes are created equal—at least when it comes to skin-toned undergarments. A shade that's too dark or light against your flesh can show right through clothes, defeating the purpose. To the rescue: lingerie company MySkins, with a line of bras and underwear in 20 different neutral shades. To find your own true hue, log on to myskins.com and print out a color card (or ask that one be mailed to you). Hold it against the front of your shoulder to get your bra match, and at your upper thigh for underpants. Now you see it—now you don't!

UNBEATABLE STYLE. CHAMPIONSHIP CLEAN.

STYLE SECRETS AND TOP PICKS FROM OUR BEAUTY & FASHION DIRECTOR

Clogging Rights

After spending nearly a decade in clogs (remember the '80s?), I thought I was done, yet here we go again. Can't wait to strut around in this brass-studded, high-heeled pair—sturdy and comfy as ever, but less clunky, even sexy.

A Charmed Life

Collecting souvenirs has always been my thing, but I've gotten pickier about what comes home—I want clever, not clutter. So when the Family Circle crew flew to St. Lucia to photograph summer beauty and fashion stories, starting on page 113, the treasure hunt was on. This shell turned up on one of my daily beach walks, and I thought, Score. But instead of going on my dresser, I've added it to my memory cord with other keepsakes—an engraved charm and an anchor from a past vacay. I like wearing this necklace because it reminds me of people and places I love.

▲ To DIY, buy a jumper ring at any bead or jewelry store for less than $1. Superglue it to the shell, then slide it onto a cord or necklace.

For me, the coolest way to cope with 90-degree weather (ugh!) is to wear a long, flowy skirt like this navy one with embroidered flowers. The length is modern, graceful and works well with any top: tee, cami, even a big shirt. It's what I reach for when I wish I could spend the day parked in front of an air conditioner.

THE NOSE KNOWS What a bummer when my fragrance disappears after half an hour. (Of course there's the flip side—a friend who's gone too far and I get a headache from the fumes.) Pro perfumer Kevin Verspoor of Drom Fragrances says the key to this dilemma is in the application: Put small doses in spots that are naturally warm, as body heat diffuses the aroma. Start behind knees and work upward to the nape of the neck. If you get occasional whiffs of your scent, you're in the zone. Smelling it continuously means you went overboard.

DIVIDE HAIR

into two equal sections, straight down the back of your head. Braid each loosely, starting behind ears; secure with elastic. For thick and coarse textures, make one tight

LET DRY for about an hour, then undo braid(s). Pull apart with hands to loosen but only briefly—too much touching creates frizz. As strands dry naturally (no blow dryer!), they will expand into fuller curls. To finish, flip head over and gently tousle hair with fingers before misting sparingly with shine spray.

Important Safety Information About SEROQUEL XR

Elderly patients with dementia-related psychosis (having lost touch with reality due to confusion and memory loss) treated with this type of medicine are at an increased risk of death, compared to placebo (sugar pill). SEROQUEL XR is not approved for treating these patients.

Antidepressants have increased the risk of suicidal thoughts and actions in some children, teenagers, and young adults. Patients of all ages starting treatment should be watched closely for worsening of depression, suicidal thoughts or actions, unusual changes in behavior, agitation, and irritability. Families and caregivers should watch patients daily and report these symptoms immediately to the physician. SEROQUEL XR is not approved for patients under the age of 18 years.

- High blood sugar and diabetes have been reported with SEROQUEL XR and medicines like it. If you have diabetes or risk factors such as obesity or a family history of diabetes, ask your doctor about checking your blood sugar before starting SEROQUEL XR and regularly throughout treatment. If you develop symptoms of high blood sugar or diabetes, such as excessive thirst or hunger, increased urination, or weakness, contact your doctor. Complications from diabetes can be serious and even life threatening.
- Increases in triglycerides and in LDL (bad) cholesterol and decreases in HDL (good) cholesterol have been reported with SEROQUEL XR. Your doctor should check your cholesterol levels before you start SEROQUEL XR and during therapy.
- Weight gain has been reported with SEROQUEL XR. Your doctor should check your weight regularly.
- A rare, but potentially fatal, side effect reported with SEROQUEL XR and medicines like it is neuroleptic malignant syndrome (NMS). Tell your doctor if you have very high fever; rigid muscles; shaking; confusion; sweating; changes in pulse, heart rate, or blood pressure; or muscle pain and weakness because treatment should be stopped if you have NMS.
- Another serious side effect reported with SEROQUEL XR and medicines like it is tardive dyskinesia (TD)—uncontrollable movements of the face, tongue, or other parts of the body. TD may become permanent, and the risk of TD is believed to increase as the length of time on and the amount of these medications increase. While TD can develop in patients taking low doses for short periods, this is much less common. There is no known treatment for TD, but it may go away partially or completely if treatment is stopped.
- Before starting treatment, tell your doctor if you have high prolactin levels or have a history of, or are at risk for, seizures or a low white blood cell (WBC) count. An eye exam for cataracts is recommended at the beginning of treatment and every 6 months thereafter.

- Other risks include feeling dizzy or lightheaded upon standing, or having trouble swallowing. Tell your doctor if you experience any of these.
- Suicidal thoughts or actions may occur; tell your doctor if you have thoughts about death or suicide.
- Since drowsiness has been reported with SEROQUEL XR, you should not participate in activities such as driving or operating machinery until you know that you can do so safely. Avoid drinking alcohol while taking SEROQUEL XR because SEROQUEL XR increases the effects of alcohol. Avoid becoming overheated or dehydrated while taking SEROQUEL XR.
- Common side effects: The most common side effects are drowsiness, dry mouth, increases in cholesterol and triglycerides, constipation, upset stomach, dizziness, a sudden drop in blood pressure upon standing, weight gain, increased hunger, tiredness, increases in blood sugar, difficulty speaking, and stuffy nose.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT SEROQUEL XR (SER-oh-kwell)

Please read this summary carefully before you start taking SEROQUEL XR and each time you get a refill. There may be new information.

No advertisement can provide all the information needed to determine if a drug is right for you or take the place of careful discussions with your health care provider. Only your health care provider has the training to weigh the risks and benefits of a prescription drug.

What is the most important information I should know about SEROOUEL XR?

Serious side effects may happen when you take SEROQUEL XR, including:

- Risk of death in the elderly with dementia:
   Medicines like SEROQUEL XR can raise the risk of death in elderly people who have lost touch with reality due to confusion and memory loss (dementia). SEROQUEL XR is not approved for treating psychosis in the elderly with dementia.
- Risk of suicidal thoughts or actions:
   Antidepressant medicines, depression and other serious mental illnesses, and suicidal thoughts or actions:
  - Antidepressant medicines may increase suicidal thoughts or actions in some children, teenagers, and young adults within the first few months of treatment.
  - Depression and other serious mental illnesses are the most important causes of suicidal thoughts and actions. Some people may have a particularly high risk of having suicidal thoughts or actions. These include people who have (or have a family history of) depression, bipolar illness (also called manic-depressive illness), or suicidal thoughts or actions.
  - 3. How can I watch for and try to prevent suicidal thoughts and actions in myself or a family member?
    - Pay close attention to any changes, especially sudden changes, in mood, behaviors, thoughts, or feelings. This is very important when an antidepressant medicine is started or when the dose is changed.
    - Call the health care provider right away to report new or sudden changes in mood, behaviors, thoughts, or feelings.
    - Keep all follow-up visits with the health care provider as scheduled. Call the health care provider between visits as needed, especially if you have concerns about symptoms.

Call a health care provider right away if you or your family member has any of the following symptoms, especially if they are new, worse, or worry you:

- thoughts about suicide or dying
- · attempts to commit suicide
- new or worse depression
- new or worse anxiety
- · feeling very agitated or restless
- panic attacks
- · trouble sleeping (insomnia)

- · new or worse irritability
- · acting aggressive, being angry, or violent
- · acting on dangerous impulses
- an extreme increase in activity and talking (mania)
- · other unusual changes in behavior or mood

What else do I need to know about antidepressant medicines?

- Never stop an antidepressant medicine without first talking to your health care provider. Stopping an antidepressant medicine suddenly can cause other symptoms.
- Antidepressants are medicines used to treat depression and other illnesses. It is important to discuss all the risks of treating depression and also the risks of not treating it. Patients and their families or other caregivers should discuss all treatment choices with the health care provider, not just the use of antidepressants.
- Antidepressant medicines have other side effects.
   Talk to the health care provider about the side effects of the medicine prescribed for you or your family member.
- Antidepressant medicines can interact with other medicines. Know all of the medicines that you or your family member take. Keep a list of all medicines to show the health care provider. Do not start new medicines without first checking with your health care provider.
- Not all antidepressant medicines prescribed for children are FDA approved for use in children.
   Talk to your child's health care provider for more information.

What are possible side effects of SEROQUEL XR?

Also see "What is the most important information I should know about SEROQUEL XR?" at the beginning of this document.

Serious side effects have been reported with SEROQUEL XR including:

 Neuroleptic malignant syndrome (NMS): Tell your health care provider right away if you have some or all of the following symptoms: high fever, stiff muscles, confusion, sweating, changes in pulse, heart rate, and blood pressure. These may be symptoms of a rare and serious condition that can lead to death. Stop SEROQUEL XR and call your health care provider right away. High blood sugar (hyperglycemia): Increases in blood sugar can happen in some people who take SEROQUEL XR. Extremely high blood sugar can lead to coma or death. If you have diabetes or risk factors for diabetes (such as being overweight or a family history of diabetes) your health care provider should check your blood sugar before you start SEROQUEL XR and during therapy.

Call your health care provider if you have any of these symptoms of high blood sugar while taking SEROQUEL XR:

- · feel very thirsty
- · need to urinate more than usual
- · feel very hungry
- · feel weak or tired
- · feel sick to your stomach
- feel confused, or your breath smells fruity.
- High cholesterol and triglyceride levels in the blood (fat in the blood) Increases in total cholesterol, triglycerides and LDL (bad) cholesterol and decreases in HDL (good) cholesterol have been reported in clinical trials with SEROQUEL XR. You may not have any symptoms, so your health care provider should do blood tests to check your cholesterol and triglyceride levels before you start taking SEROQUEL XR and during therapy.
- Increase in weight (weight gain): Weight gain has been seen in patients who take SEROQUEL XR so you and your health care provider should check your weight regularly.
- Tardive dyskinesia: Tell your health care provider about any movements you cannot control in your face, tongue, or other body parts. These may be signs of a serious condition. Tardive dyskinesia may not go away, even if you stop taking SEROQUEL XR. Tardive dyskinesia may also start after you stop taking SEROQUEL XR.
- Orthostatic hypotension (decreased blood pressure): lightheadedness or fainting caused by a sudden change in heart rate and blood pressure when rising too quickly from a sitting or lying position.
- Increases in blood pressure: reported in children and teenagers. Your health care provider should check blood pressure in children and adolescents before starting SEROQUEL XR and during therapy.
   SEROQUEL XR is not approved for patients under 18 years of age.
- · Low white blood cell count
- Cataracts
- Seizures
- Abnormal thyroid tests: Your health care provider may do blood tests to check your thyroid hormone level.
- Increases in prolactin levels: Your health care provider may do blood tests to check your prolactin levels.
- Increases in liver enzymes: Your health care provider may do blood tests to check your liver enzyme levels.
- · Long lasting and painful erection
- Difficulty swallowing

Common possible side effects with SEROQUEL XR include:

- drowsiness
- dry mouth
- constipation
- dizziness
- increased appetite
- upset stomach
- weight gain
- fatigue
- disturbance in speech and language
- abdominal pain
- · stuffy nose

These are not all the possible side effects of SEROQUEL XR. For more information, ask your health care provider or pharmacist.

Call your health care provider for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

How should I store SEROQUEL XR?

- Store SEROQUEL XR at room temperature, between 59°F to 86°F (15°C to 30°C).
- Keep SEROQUEL XR and all medicines out of the reach of children.

What are the ingredients in SEROQUEL XR?

Hurtful Lies

Many of us think it's okay to fudge facts when doctors ask about our health habits. But any lie—no matter how small—is dangerous, says Grace Keenan, M.D., medical director of Nova Medical Group in Ashburn, Virginia. "Not being honest puts you at risk of misdiagnosis and unnecessary treatments that could cause harm."

most common fibs

"I don't smoke."
"I always drink in moderation."
"I exercise every day."
"I sleep 7 to 8 hours a night."
"I never eat junk food."

When feeling overwhelmed, sit or lie down and listen to instrumental music or nature sounds for an hour, and breathe deeply. Try this weekly and you'll lower your anxiety level as much as people who get regular massages, says a report from Group Health Research Institute in Seattle. Pop in a classical CD or visit the free radio site pandora .com, click on "create a new station" and type in "nature sounds." Put on loose clothing, dim the lights and close your eyes to calm down faster.

We've all been there: You're looking for your sunglasses only to find them on your head. Mental lapses may seem a fact of life, but adding magnesium to your diet can improve your memory. Eat more broccoli, beans, nuts and spinach rather than reaching for a supplement. A new study shows that when you take the nutrient in pill form, it doesn't reach the brain.

0&A

How often can I give blood?

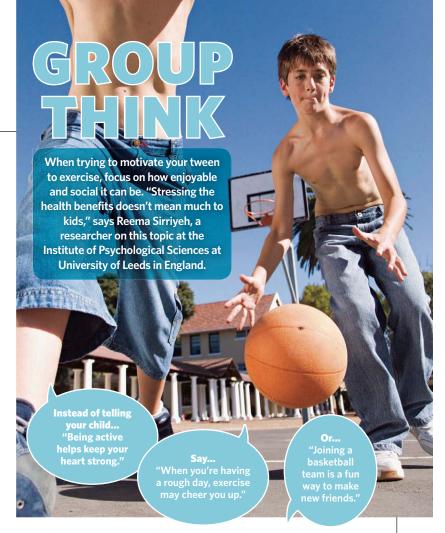

Every two months, says Nicola Lacetera, Ph.D., who researches health economics at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. "There's a perception that blood is needed only after a major disaster, like 9/11 or the Haitian earthquake. But there's a huge demand for blood every day (for accident survivors and patients with chronic conditions, for example), and the supply isn't sufficient." While 38% of Americans are eligible to give blood, just 8% do. To find out how you can help, call 800-GIVE-LIFE or visit redcrossblood.org.

RASH DECISION

If you notice little red bumps on your kid's upper arms or thighs, it's most likely keratosis pilaris (KP), a harmless skin condition that 40% of children develop (typically during their teen years), says Alan Fleischer, M.D., chair of the dermatology department at Wake Forest University School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Once a dermatologist confirms the diagnosis, KP is easily treatable. Just pick up an OTC lotion that contains at least 12% lactic acid, such as AmLactin, at a pharmacy or from drugstore.com. Your teen should apply it once or twice a day (ideally after a shower—hot water helps skin absorb more of the moisturizer), and the rash is likely to disappear within a few weeks. For more info, visit littleredbumps.com.

REACTION TIME Side effects can be dangerous, so act quickly if your child throws up, gets diarrhea or experiences other symptoms after taking her medication. Call your doctor immediately to determine whether you should seek emergency medical care. (If it's after hours, call 911.) Later, go online to report the incident confidentially at fda.gov/medwatch/. If enough people have the same response to a drug, the FDA will re-investigate its safety.

My 13-year-old daughter bites her nails. How can I help her stop?

"Gently ask your child when and why she does it," says Paul Kechijian, M.D., former chief of the nail section of the dermatology department at New York University Medical Center. "You want to get to the root of the problem." Say she bites her nails right before piano lessons—maybe she's nervous because she never has time to practice. Once you address the underlying issue, she may stop naturally. When the cause is harder to pin down, encourage your daughter to chew sugarless gum or suck on sugar-free mints. Or treat her to a manicure, because polish makes nails harder to bite (plus, she may think twice before ruining it). If all else fails—and she's willing—try the ultimate deterrent: Cover your kid's fingertips with an OTC bitter-tasting liquid, like citric acid.

MEDICATION GUIDE CONCERTA® (kon SER-ta) (methylphenidate HCI) Extended-release Tablets

Read the Medication Guide that comes with CONCERTA® before you or your child starts taking it and each time you get a refill. There may be new information. This Medication Guide does not take the place of talking to your doctor about you or your child's treatment with CONCERTA®.

What is the most important information I should know about CONCERTA®?

The following have been reported with use of methylphenidate HCl and other stimulant medicines:

- 1. Heart-related problems:
  - sudden death in patients who have heart problems or heart defects
  - stroke and heart attack in adults
  - increased blood pressure and heart rate

Tell your doctor if you or your child have any heart problems, heart defects, high blood pressure, or a family history of these problems.

Your doctor should check you or your child carefully for heart problems before starting CONCERTA®.

Your doctor should check you or your child's blood pressure and heart rate regularly during treatment with CONCERTA®.

Call your doctor right away if you or your child has any signs of heart problems such as chest pain, shortness of breath, or fainting while taking CONCERTA®.

2. Mental (Psychiatric) problems:

All Patients

- new or worse behavior and thought problems
- new or worse bipolar illness
- · new or worse aggressive behavior or hostility

Children and Teenagers

 new psychotic symptoms (such as hearing voices, believing things that are not true, are suspicious) or new manic symptoms

Tell your doctor about any mental problems you or your child have, or about a family history of suicide, bipolar illness, or depression.

Call your doctor right away if you or your child have any new or worsening mental symptoms or problems while taking CONCERTA®, especially seeing or hearing things that are not real, believing things that are not real, or are suspicious.

What Is CONCERTA®?

CONCERTA® is a central nervous system stimulant prescription medicine. It is used for the treatment of attention deficit and hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). CONCERTA® may help increase attention and decrease impulsiveness and hyperactivity in patients with ADHD.

 ${\tt CONCERTA}^{\circledast}$  should be used as a part of a total treatment program for ADHD that may include counseling or other therapies.

CONCERTA® is a federally controlled substance (CII) because it can be abused or lead to dependence. Keep CONCERTA® in a safe place to prevent misuse and abuse. Selling or giving away CONCERTA® may harm others, and is against the law.

Tell your doctor if you or your child have (or have a family history of) ever abused or been dependent on alcohol, prescription medicines or street drugs.

Who should not take CONCERTA®? CONCERTA® should not be taken if you or your child:

- · are very anxious, tense, or agitated
- have an eye problem called glaucoma
- have tics or Tourette's syndrome, or a family history of Tourette's syndrome. Tics are hard to control repeated movements or sounds.
- are taking or have taken within the past 14 days an antidepression medicine called a monoamine oxidase inhibitor or MAOI.
- are allergic to anything in CONCERTA®. See the end of this Medication Guide for a complete list of ingredients.

CONCERTA® should not be used in children less than 6 years old because it has not been studied in this age group.

CONCERTA® may not be right for you or your child. Before starting CONCERTA® tell your or your child's doctor about all health conditions (or a family history of) including:

- heart problems, heart defects, or high blood pressure
- mental problems including psychosis, mania, bipolar illness, or depression
- · tics or Tourette's syndrome
- seizures or have had an abnormal brain wave test (EEG)
- esophagus, stomach, or small or large intestine problems

Tell your doctor if you or your child is pregnant, planning to become pregnant, or breastfeeding.

Can CONCERTA® be taken with other medicines?

Tell your doctor about all of the medicines that you or your child take including prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. CONCERTA® and some medicines may interact with each other and cause serious side effects. Sometimes the doses of other medicines will need to be adjusted while taking CONCERTA®.

Your doctor will decide whether CONCERTA® can be taken with other medicines.

Especially tell your doctor if you or your child takes:

- anti-depression medicines including MAOIs
- · seizure medicines
- · blood thinner medicines
- blood pressure medicines
- cold or allergy medicines that contain decongestants

Know the medicines that you or your child takes. Keep a list of your medicines with you to show your doctor and pharmacist.

Do not start any new medicine while taking CONCERTA® without talking to your doctor first.

How should CONCERTA® be taken?

- Take CONCERTA® exactly as prescribed. Your doctor may adjust the dose until it is right for you or your child.
- Do not chew, crush, or divide the tablets. Swallow CONCERTA® tablets whole with water or other liquids.
   Tell your doctor if you or your child cannot swallow CONCERTA® whole. A different medicine may need to be prescribed.
- CONCERTA® can be taken with or without food.
- Take CONCERTA® once each day in the morning. CONCERTA® is an extended release tablet. It releases medication into your/your child's body throughout the day.
- The CONCERTA® tablet does not dissolve completely in the body after all the medicine has been released. You or your child may sometimes notice the empty tablet in a bowel movement. This is normal.
- From time to time, your doctor may stop CONCERTA® treatment for a while to check ADHD symptoms.
- Your doctor may do regular checks of the blood, heart, and blood pressure while taking CONCERTA®. Children should have their height and weight checked often while taking CONCERTA®. CONCERTA® treatment may be stopped if a problem is found during these check-ups.
- If you or your child takes too much CONCERTA® or overdoses, call your doctor or poison control center right away, or get emergency treatment.

What are possible side effects of CONCERTA®?

See "What is the most important information I should know about CONCERTA®?" for information on reported heart and mental problems.

Other serious side effects include:

HOW I LOST IT

>> Dennille Ferguson, 31, Arlington, Texas. Dropped 114 pounds.

I run with my dogs.

I began walking a mile with my terriers every morning. Then I picked up the pace a little—jogging past the last four mailboxes. Now I can run the entire way.

I buy healthy foods in bulk.

I stock up on boneless, skinless chicken breasts. On weekends I marinate and grill a package and heat some up throughout the week to eat with salads or veggies.

I prep in advance for the gym.

In addition to running in the mornings, I go to the gym two to three days a week after work to use the weight machines. I always pack my workout clothes the night before. —Ashley Neff

SLIM-DOWN SECRET Stay fuller and more satisfied after a carb-rich meal by tossing potatoes, pasta or other grains in a tablespoon of vinegar. The added acidity slows down digestion and suppresses enzymes that turn starches into simple sugars. This helps prevent spikes and crashes in blood sugar, which can leave people hungry, explains Bob Greene, founder of TheBestLife.com.

••• walk it off by Kathy Smith

lose weight FASTER

Maybe your regular walking routine has become a snooze—it happens. Or you haven't budged off the couch because you don't actually believe a stroll will really make a difference. Well, in fact, just a few creative changes can liven up your walking program and give you a reason to get moving. Go ahead and try our plan. There's nothing to lose—except some pounds.

1/ Build your base. → Start by focusing on distance and good form—you're not trying to win a race. If you're new to walking, gradually build up to 30 minutes. Both novices and regular walkers (who make 45 minutes their goal) need to think about posture: shoulders back, elbows in, chin up. And no arching the lower back or sticking out your butt. This solid foundation will help you avoid injury while making it easy to add in additional challenges, like the ones below.

2/ Monitor your progress. → While you're walking, think about how hard you're pushing yourself. On an exertion scale from 0 to 10 (with 0 being "easy" and 10 being "very, very difficult") you want to go beyond the 3 or 4 most people settle on. Crank it up to a 6 or 7 to get fat-burning engines revved and running. How do you know you're there? Do the talk test. You should be walking swiftly enough so that you can talk a little but find it difficult to carry on a conversation. If you're walking alone, it should be a struggle to sing along with your iPod for more than a few yerses.

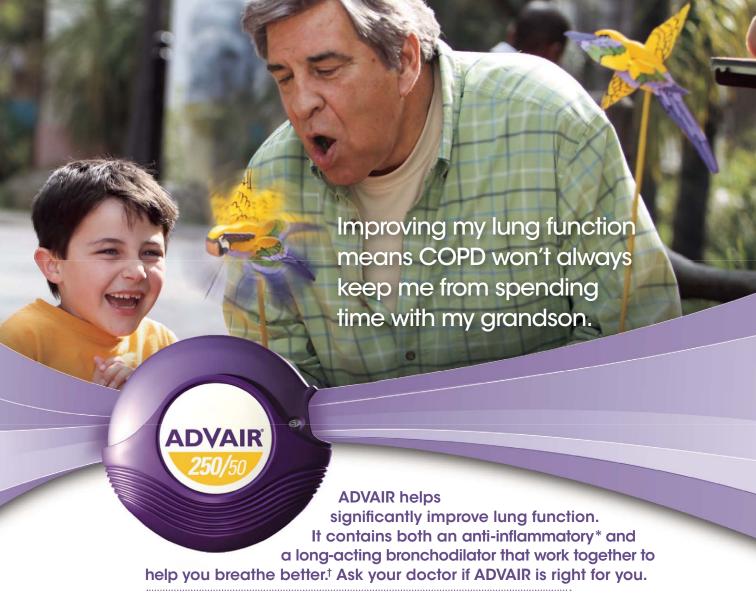

3 / Muscle up. → Twice a week skip walking and zero in on upper-body strength—you'll increase your metabolism even while at rest. Plus, strong arms, shoulders, back and chest propel you forward, meaning you'll walk faster and burn more calories. Use light weights or resistance tubes to work your entire upper body with 4 easy moves (3 sets, 15 reps each): biceps curls, triceps extensions, overhead presses and one-armed rows. See familycircle.com/armexercises for how-to's.

4/ Speed it up. The number one way to dramatically increase calorie burn is by doing intervals. For 3 minutes push yourself until you're at a 7 or 8, then recover for a full minute back at a 3. Repeat a few times throughout your walk. If you find you no longer need the recovery period, push a little harder during the intervals.

5 / Focus on the toes. While you're walking, concentrate on actively pulling up your toes as your legs swing forward. Engaging the front part of your calf (the tibialis muscle) will strengthen your leg muscles and help move you forward more quickly.

6 / Walk the line. → On your next walk, imagine a thin, straight line in front of you. Adjust your stride so that the inside of your foot touches this imaginary line each time you take a step. Walking the line forces you to rotate your pelvis and extend your hips slightly, which lengthens your stride and allows you to cover more distance in less time—and burn even more calories.

Important Safety Information about ADVAIR DISKUS 250/50 for COPD:

- ADVAIR DISKUS 250/50 is approved for adults with COPD, including chronic bronchitis, emphysema, or both. You should only take 1 inhalation of ADVAIR twice a day. Higher doses will not provide additional benefits. People with COPD taking ADVAIR may have a higher chance of pneumonia. Call your doctor if you notice any of the following symptoms: change in amount or color of sputum, fever, chills, increased cough, or increased breathing problems.
- ADVAIR may increase your risk of osteoporosis and some eye problems (cataracts or glaucoma). You should have regular eye exams. Thrush in the mouth and throat may occur. Tell your doctor if you have a heart condition or high blood pressure before taking ADVAIR. Do not use ADVAIR with long-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonists for any reason. ADVAIR does not replace fast-acting inhalers for sudden symptoms.
- *It is not known how anti-inflammatories work in COPD. †Measured by a breathing test in people taking ADVAIR 250/50, compared with people taking either fluticasone propionate 250 mcg or salmeterol 50 mcg. Your results may vary. ‡Restrictions apply. See advairCOPD.com for eligibility rules.

Please see accompanying important information about ADVAIR DISKUS.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

ADVAIR DISKUS 100/50, 250/50, 500/50 (fluticasone propionate 100, 250, 500 mcg and salmeterol 50 mcg inhalation powder)

What is the most important information I should know about ADVAIR DISKUS?

- In patients with asthma, long-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonist (LABA) medicines, such as salmeterol (one of the medicines in ADVAIR DISKUS), may increase the chance of death from asthma problems. In a large asthma study, more patients who used salmeterol died from asthma problems compared with patients who did not use salmeterol. It is not known whether fluticasone propionate, the other medicine in ADVAIR DISKUS, changes your chance of death from asthma problems seen with salmeterol. Talk with your healthcare provider about this risk and the benefits of treating your asthma with ADVAIR DISKUS.
- ADVAIR DISKUS does not relieve sudden symptoms.
   Always have a fast-acting inhaler (short-acting beta<sub>2</sub>-agonist medicine) with you to treat sudden symptoms.
   If you do not have a fast-acting inhaler, contact your healthcare provider to have one prescribed for you.
- Do not stop using ADVAIR DISKUS unless told to do so by your healthcare provider because your symptoms might get worse.
- ADVAIR DISKUS should be used only if your healthcare provider decides that another asthmacontroller medicine alone does not control your asthma or that you need 2 asthma-controller medicines.
- Call your healthcare provider if breathing problems worsen over time while using ADVAIR DISKUS. You may need different treatment.
- · Get emergency medical care if:
- breathing problems worsen quickly, and
- you use your fast-acting inhaler, but it does not relieve your breathing problems.

What is ADVAIR DISKUS?

- ADVAIR DISKUS contains 2 medicines:
  - fluticasone propionate (the same medicine found in FLOVENT*), an inhaled corticosteroid medicine. Inhaled corticosteroids help to decrease inflammation in the lungs. Inflammation in the lungs can lead to asthma symptoms.
  - salmeterol (the same medicine found in SEREVENT"), a LABA. LABA medicines are used in patients with asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). LABA medicines help the muscles around the airways in your lungs stay relaxed to prevent symptoms, such as wheezing and shortness of breath. These symptoms can happen when the muscles around the airways tighten. This makes it hard to breathe. In severe cases, wheezing can stop your breathing and cause death if not treated right away.

Asthma

ADVAIR DISKUS is used long term, twice a day, to control symptoms of asthma and to prevent symptoms such as wheezing in adults and children ages 4 and older.

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)

COPD is a chronic lung disease that includes chronic bronchitis, emphysema, or both. ADVAIR DISKUS 250/50 is used long term, twice a day, to help improve lung function for better breathing in adults with COPD. ADVAIR DISKUS 250/50 has been shown to decrease the number of flare-ups and worsening of COPD symptoms (exacerbations).

Who should not use ADVAIR DISKUS?

Do not use ADVAIR DISKUS:

- to treat sudden, severe symptoms of asthma or COPD
- if you have a severe allergy to milk proteins. Ask your doctor if you are not sure.

April 2009

Important Safety Information About ADVAIR DISKUS

This brief summary does not take the place of talking to your healthcare provider about your medical condition or treatment.

What should I tell my healthcare provider before using ADVAIR DISKUS?

Tell your healthcare provider about all of your health conditions, including if you:

- · have heart problems
- have high blood pressure
- have seizures
- · have thyroid problems
- · have diabetes
- have liver problems
- · have osteoporosis
- have an immune system problem
- are pregnant or planning to become pregnant. It is not known if ADVAIR DISKUS may harm your unborn baby
- are breastfeeding. It is not known if ADVAIR DISKUS passes into your milk and if it can harm your baby
- are allergic to any of the ingredients in ADVAIR DISKUS, any other medicines, or food products
- · are exposed to chickenpox or measles

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take, including prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. ADVAIR DISKUS and certain other medicines may interact with each other. This may cause serious side effects. Especially, tell your healthcare provider if you take ritonavir. The anti-HIV medicines Norvir® (ritonavir capsules) Soft Gelatin, Norvir® (ritonavir oral solution), and Kaletra® (lopinavir/ritonavir) Tablets contain ritonavir.

Know the medicines you take. Keep a list and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist each time you get a new medicine.

How do I use ADVAIR DISKUS?

Do not use ADVAIR DISKUS unless your healthcare provider has taught you and you understand everything. Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist if you have any questions.

- Children should use ADVAIR DISKUS with an adult's help, as instructed by the child's healthcare provider.
- Use ADVAIR DISKUS exactly as prescribed. Do not use ADVAIR DISKUS more often than prescribed. ADVAIR DISKUS comes in 3 strengths. Your healthcare provider will prescribe the one that is best for your condition.
- The usual dosage of ADVAIR DISKUS is 1 inhalation twice a day (morning and evening). The 2 doses should be about 12 hours apart. Rinse your mouth with water after using ADVAIR DISKUS.
- If you take more ADVAIR DISKUS than your doctor has prescribed, get medical help right away if you have any unusual symptoms, such as worsening shortness of breath, chest pain, increased heart rate, or shakiness.
- If you miss a dose of ADVAIR DISKUS, just skip that dose. Take your next dose at your usual time. Do not take 2 doses at one time.
- Do not use a spacer device with ADVAIR DISKUS.
- Do not breathe into ADVAIR DISKUS.
- While you are using ADVAIR DISKUS twice a day, do not use other medicines that contain a LABA for any reason. Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist if any of your other medicines are LABA medicines.
- Do not change or stop any of your medicines used to control or treat your breathing problems. Your healthcare provider will adjust your medicines as needed.
- Make sure you always have a fast-acting inhaler with you. Use your fast-acting inhaler if you have breathing problems between doses of ADVAIR DISKUS.

Call your healthcare provider or get medical care right away if:

- your breathing problems worsen with ADVAIR DISKUS
- you need to use your fast-acting inhaler more often than usual
- your fast-acting inhaler does not work as well for you at relieving symptoms
- you need to use 4 or more inhalations of your fast-acting inhaler for 2 or more days in a row
- you use 1 whole canister of your fast-acting inhaler in 8 weeks' time
- your peak flow meter results decrease. Your healthcare provider will tell you the numbers that are right for you.
- you have asthma and your symptoms do not improve after using ADVAIR DISKUS regularly for 1 week

What are the possible side effects with ADVAIR DISKUS?

- See "What is the most important information I should know about ADVAIR DISKUS?"
- Patients with COPD have a higher chance of getting pneumonia. ADVAIR DISKUS may increase the chance of getting pneumonia. Call your healthcare provider if you notice any of the following symptoms:
  - increase in mucus (sputum) production
  - change in mucus color
  - increased breathing problems fever
- increased cough
- chills
- serious allergic reactions. Call your healthcare provider or get emergency medical care if you get any of the following symptoms of a serious allergic reaction, including:
- rash swelling of the face, mouth, and tongue
- hives
   breathing problems
- increased blood pressure
- chest pain
- a fast and irregular heartbeat
- headache
- tremor
- nervousness
- weakened immune system and a higher chance of infections
- lower bone mineral density. This may be a problem for people who already have a higher chance of low bone density (osteoporosis).
- eye problems including glaucoma and cataracts.
   You should have regular eye exams while using ADVAIR DISKLIS.
- slowed growth in children. A child's growth should be checked often.

Other common side effects include:

- hoarseness and voice changes
- throat irritation
- · thrush in the mouth and throat
- respiratory tract infections

Tell your healthcare provider about any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away.

These are not all the side effects with ADVAIR DISKUS. Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist for more information.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to the FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

ON A BUDGET

You don't need a pricey gym membership to lose weight and build strength. All it takes is 3 key types of equipment—with a total price tag of less than $100 and 6 expert-designed exercises. "Affordable gear, like resistance bands, can work muscles just as effectively as expensive items, such as dumbbells, which can cost hundreds," says Gregory Florez, a spokesperson for the American Council on Exercise, CEO of personal coaching company www.FitAdvisor.com and the designer of our program. To get the most bang for your buck, do 2 sets of the following moves 3 days a week, with at least 1 rest day in between. You'll see results in 4 to 6 weeks. Now that's priceless.

BY SARAH ROBBINS

have a ball

TONES » Abs, back, shoulders, buttocks and hamstrings

ONE SET » 15 to 20 repetitions

STARTING POSITION » Lie facedown on the ball so that it's between your chest and your belly. Your arms should hang down perpendicular to the floor. Your legs should be shoulder-width apart, stretched out diagonally, with your toes touching the floor to keep your body stable.

ONE REP » Lift and extend your left arm out in front of you so it's parallel to the floor-and at the same time lift and extend your right leg so it's also parallel to the floor. Hold this position for 2 seconds. Then lower them back to the starting position and repeat the move with the right arm and the left leg. That's 1 rep.

on amazon.com

TONES » Oblique (side) and lower abs, upper thighs

ONE SET » 15 to 30 repetitions to each side STARTING POSITION » Sit on top of the ball with your knees shoulder-width apart and your feet firmly planted on the floor. Slide down the ball until your lower back is leaning against it. Remember to keep your back as straight as you possibly can.

ONE REP » Cross your arms over your chest and raise your torso (as if doing a sit-up) for 3 seconds, lifting yourself only as far as you can while keeping your buttocks in contact with the ball. As you crunch, tighten your stomach muscles and squeeze your glutes. At the top of the motion, gently rotate your upper torso to the right. Come back to the center and roll back down to the starting position. Repeat the crunch, this time rotating to the left.

Start these exercises with the green (lightweight) band. If you finish a set and can do at least 3 more reps with perfect form, switch to the red (medium) and then the blue (heavy) for more resistance.

standing squat with shoulder press

TONES » Glutes, quads, hamstrings, shoulders and triceps

ONE SET » 15 to 20 repetitions

STARTING POSITION » Stand with your back straight, feet shoulder-width apart and knees slightly bent. Place the band securely under your feet. Gripping the band's handles with palms facing forward, raise your arms out to the sides so they're parallel to the floor, and then bend your forearms, so they're perpendicular to the ground.

ONE REP » Keeping your abs pulled in and your gaze at eye-level, take 2 seconds to lower into a squat. Make sure that when you're in the deepest part of the bend, the tops of your thighs don't go past parallel to the floor. Take 2 seconds to return to the starting position, and then slowly press your arms up overhead until your elbows are straight. Leading with your elbows, return arms to starting position.

alternating leg lunges with biceps curls

TONES » Glutes, hamstrings, quads, calves, biceps and forearms

ONE SET » 12 to 15 repetitions on each leg STARTING POSITION » Stand with your back straight, feet shoulder-width apart, knees slightly bent, hands hanging by your sides while holding the band, chin level with the floor and eyes gazing straight ahead. Then step on the band with your right foot.

ONE REP » Gripping the handles with palms facing forward, slowly lunge backward about 2 feet with your left foot. Bend your left knee while curling your forearms upward, making sure your back stays straight. Once you finish the motion, return to the starting position. After 1 full set on that side, switch legs.

Your child could be

Now you can help protect both your son and daughter with GARDASIL.

Because HPV disease can impact males and females.

There are over 30 types of human papillomavirus (HPV) that will affect an estimated 75% to 80% of males and females in their lifetime. For most, HPV clears on its own. But, for 30 women a day in the US (about 11,000 women a year), certain types of HPV lead to cervical cancer.

Other types of HPV can cause genital warts in both males and females. It is estimated that each minute in the US, there is a new case of genital warts.

GARDASIL is the only HPV vaccine that helps protect against 4 types of HPV. In girls and young women ages 9 to 26, GARDASIL helps protect against 2 types of HPV that cause about 75% of cervical cancer cases, and 2 more types that cause 90% of genital warts cases. In boys and young men ages 9 to 26, GARDASIL helps protect against 90% of genital warts cases.

GARDASIL may not fully protect everyone. GARDASIL does not prevent all types of cervical cancer, so it's important for women to continue routine cervical cancer screenings. GARDASIL does not treat cervical cancer or genital warts. GARDASIL is given as 3 injections over 6 months.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

Anyone who is allergic to the ingredients of GARDASIL, including those severely allergic to yeast, should not receive the vaccine. GARDASIL is not for women who are pregnant.

The side effects include pain, swelling, itching, bruising, and redness at the injection site, headache, fever, nausea, dizziness, vomiting, and fainting. Fainting can happen after getting GARDASIL. Sometimes people who faint can fall and hurt themselves. For this reason, your health care professional may ask your child to sit or lie down for 15 minutes after your child gets GARDASIL. Some people who faint might shake or become stiff. This may require evaluation or treatment by your child's health care professional.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088. Please see the Patient Information on the next page to discuss it with your child's doctor or health care professional.

Patient Information about GARDASIL® (pronounced "gard-Ah-sill")

Generic name: [Human Papillomavirus Quadrivalent (Types 6, 11, 16, and 18) Vaccine, Recombinant]

Read this information with care before getting GARDASIL. You (the person getting GARDASIL) will need 3 doses of the vaccine. It is important to read this leaflet when you get each dose. This leaflet does not take the place of talking with your health care provider about GARDASIL.

What is GARDASIL?

GARDASIL is a vaccine (injection/shot) that is used for girls and women 9 through 26 years of age to help protect against the following diseases caused by Human Papillomavirus (HPV):

- Cervical cancer
- Vulvar and vaginal cancers
- Genital warts
- Abnormal and precancerous cervical, vaginal, and vulvar lesions
  - The diseases listed above have many causes, and GARDASIL only protects against diseases caused by certain kinds of HPV (called Type 6, Type 11, Type 16, and Type 18). Most of the time, these 4 types of HPV are responsible for the diseases listed above.
  - GARDASIL cannot protect you from a disease that is caused by other types of HPV, other viruses, or bacteria.
- GARDASIL does not treat HPV infection.
- You cannot get HPV or any of the above diseases from GARDASIL.

GARDASIL is used for boys and men 9 through 26 years of age to help protect against genital warts.

What important information about GARDASIL should I know?

- You should continue to get routine cervical cancer screening.
- GARDASIL may not fully protect everyone who gets the vaccine.
- GARDASIL will not protect against HPV types that you already have.

Who should not get GARDASIL?

You should not get GARDASIL if you have, or have had:

- an allergic reaction after getting a dose of GARDASIL.
- a severe allergic reaction to yeast, amorphous aluminum hydroxyphosphate sulfate, polysorbate 80.

What should I tell my health care provider before getting GARDASIL?

Tell your health care provider if you:

- are pregnant or planning to get pregnant. GARDASIL is not recommended for use in pregnant women.
- have immune problems, like HIV infection, cancer, or you take medicines that affect your immune system.
- have a fever over 100°F (37.8°C).
- had an allergic reaction to another dose of GARDASIL.
- take any medicines, even those you can buy over the counter.

Your health care provider will help decide if you should get the vaccine.

How is GARDASIL given?

GARDASIL is a shot that is usually given in the arm muscle. You will need 3 shots given on the following schedule:

- Dose 1: at a date you and your health care provider choose.
- Dose 2: 2 months after Dose 1.
- Dose 3: 6 months after Dose 1.

Fainting can happen after getting GARDASIL. Sometimes people who faint can fall and hurt themselves. For this reason, your health care provider may ask you to sit or lie down for 15 minutes after you get GARDASIL. Some people who faint might shake or become stiff. This may require evaluation or treatment by your health care provider.

Make sure that you get all 3 doses on time so that you get the best protection. If you miss a dose, talk to your health care provider.

What are the possible side effects of GARDASIL?

The most common side effects with GARDASIL are:

- pain, swelling, itching, bruising, and redness at the injection site
- headache
- fever
- nausea
- dizziness
- vomiting
- fainting

Tell your health care provider if you have any of the following problems because these may be signs of an allergic reaction:

- difficulty breathing
- wheezing (bronchospasm)
- hives
- rash

Tell your health care provider if you have:

- swollen glands (neck, armpit, or groin)
- joint pain
- unusual tiredness, weakness, or confusion
- chills
- generally feeling unwell
- leg pain
- shortness of breath
- chest pain
- aching muscles
- muscle weakness
- seizure
- bad stomach ache
- bleeding or bruising more easily than normal

Contact your health care provider right away if you get any symptoms that concern you, even several months after getting the vaccine.

For a more complete list of side effects, ask your health care provider.

may be anything but. We've got the easy fixes for common slipups.

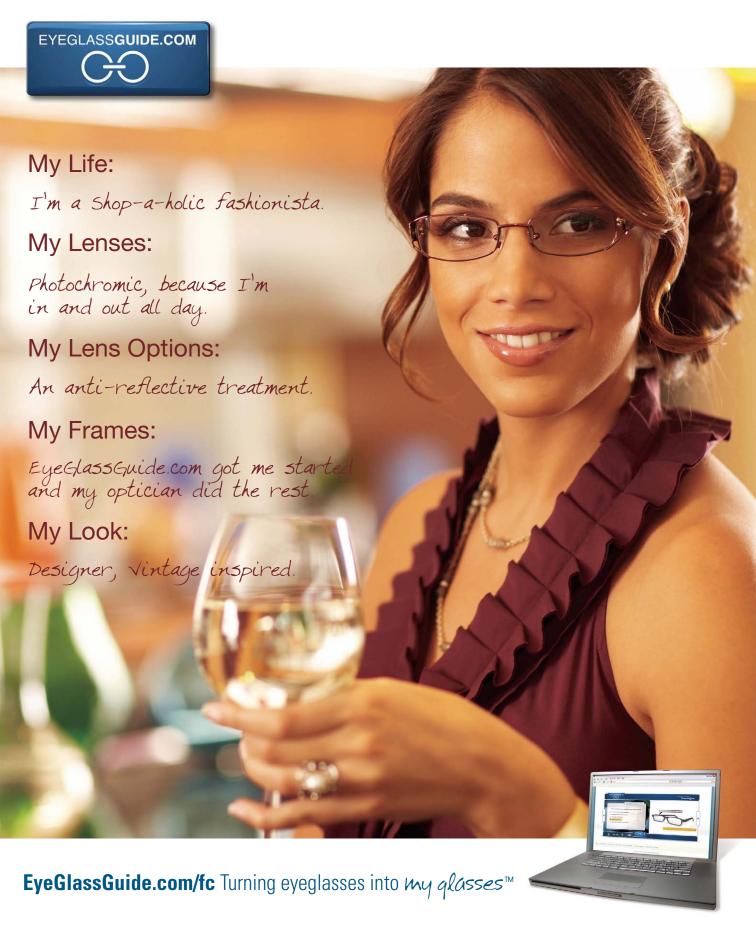

BY BROOKE BENJAMIN

Earlier this year my husband and I fell into a routine—relaxing and chatting over a scoop (or two) of ice cream on the couch after dinner. It wasn't long before I realized we were averaging a pint a night—and my jeans were getting tight. Reversing the damage wasn't easy, but I switched to nonfat frozen yogurt, then gradually turned dessert into a special weekend treat. We all are guilty of habits just as common as my scoop a day: skimping on sleep, biting nails, skipping flossing or something similar. Four women reveal their little indiscretions and share how they made a change for the better.

She began to forget things she had said to her 11-year-old son.

▶ THE DANGER Too little sleep doesn't just sabotage your next day's performance: In one recent Archives of Internal Medicine study, women who got five hours or less per night were 39% more likely to develop heart disease than those who slept eight hours nightly, perhaps because poor sleep triggers your body to create more of the stress hormone cortisol. Elevated cortisol levels are linked to high blood pressure and glucose intolerance, which is a risk factor for diabetes.

Sleep Better/Jill's Tips Keep a food diary. "I'm a chef, so I decided to track my meals to see how food affects my sleep," says Jill.

"I already knew that caffeine kept me up, but I discovered that spicy dinners and wheat did too."

Make a bedtime ritual. "Every night at 9 p.m. I have an hour of 'me time' in my bedroom. I thumb through a magazine, and I don't even look at my BlackBerry (I put it inside a special box to charge overnight so it can't stress me out). Lights go out at 10 p.m., and I get up at 5:30 or 6 A.M."

- EXPERT ADVICE When Jill has trouble nodding off, she should count backward from 300 by 3s, suggests psychologist Michael Breus, Ph.D., author of Beauty Sleep: Look Younger, Lose Weight, and Feel Great Through Better Sleep (Plume). "It's a distraction technique that calms your mind. I never make it past 150," he says. "She could also try progressive muscle relaxation, which can help your entire body to relax. As you lie in bed, tense and relax your muscles, starting at the top of your head and working your way down: Squint your eyes shut and hold for five seconds, then relax; scrunch your nose for five seconds, then relax-move all the way down to your feet.
- ▶ SURPRISE BENEFIT "When I was sleep-deprived I'd fly off the handle at the littlest thing. Now I'm a better parent," says Jill.

"I seldom flossed."

—Jenni Taylor Swain, Fayetteville, AR

This 48-year-old finally made flossing a habit after her dentist warned her about her bleeding gums and plaque buildup.

▶ THE DANGER Flossing is the best way to prevent gum disease, which affects nearly 80% of adults. This bacterial infection, which is the number one cause of tooth loss in those over age 35, is not just a dental issue: It has been linked to heart disease, diabetes, rheumatoid arthritis and even some types of cancer.

Floss Often/Jenni's Tips

Bring it out of the bathroom. "Most people keep floss only in their medicine cabinet," says Jenni. "Mine is in my glove compartment, a bowl by my kitchen sink

Break This Habit, Live Longer

Nearly 20% of women smoke, despite a mountain of research linking smoking to heart disease, stroke, lung cancer and a dozen other cancers. Here's some motivation to stop.

20 minutes after quitting: Your blood pressure drops.

12 hours after quitting:
Levels of toxic carbon monoxide in your blood decrease.

2 weeks to 3 months after quitting: Your lung function increases.

1 to 9 months after quitting: You cough less.

1 year after quitting: Your heart-disease risk is cut in half.

5 to 15 years after quitting: Your stroke risk is that of a nonsmoker.

15 years after quitting:Your heart-disease risk is the same as a nonsmoker's.

Check out the step-by-step guide to quitting at smokefree.gov. To trade stop-smoking tips with moms like you, visit momster.com/fc/quitsmoking and in my purse (one kind comes in a container that fits in my wallet like a credit card). I floss a handful of times each day—usually when I'm stuck in traffic or watching TV-and it's great because my sons (ages 16 and 13) see me taking care of my oral health." Stock up. "I bought all different kinds of floss: woven, waxed, unwaxed, flavored. The variety makes it a little more fun." EXPERT ADVICE "It's great that Jenni set it up so she can floss anytime, anywhere—one of my patients scheduled a daily reminder in his work e-mail calendar," says Cynthia Sherwood, D.D.S., an Academy of General Dentistry spokesperson in Independence, Kansas. Just be sure to use care, especially if you floss often, as it's possible to aggravate your gums. Dr. Sherwood recommends products that take the hassle out of the process, such as floss sticks or the Reach

Treat your osteoporosis your way

EVISTA lets me treat my osteoporosis at any time of day, with or without food.

I know it's important to treat my osteoporosis. And with EVISTA, if I want to take it with breakfast, lunch or dinner, I can. Since it's a daily pill, I take it at the same time every day, so I can remember to take it with my calcium and vitamin D. That's why EVISTA is my osteoporosis medicine.

EVISTA has been prescribed for over 10 years to treat and prevent osteoporosis in women past menopause.

EVISTA increases bone mineral density, and reduces the risk of spinal fractures.

Go to osteomyway.com to find out more. Ask your doctor if EVISTA is right for you.

Important Safety Information for EVISTA® (raloxifene HCl tablets)

You should not take EVISTA if you have had or are at risk for getting blood clots in the legs, lungs or eyes, as it may increase the risk of blood clots. Stop taking EVISTA and call your doctor if you have leg pain or warmth, swelling of the legs, hands or feet, chest pain, shortness of breath or a sudden vision change, as these may be signs of a blood clot. Being unable to move around for long periods may increase this risk. If you will need to be still for a long time, talk to your doctor about ways to reduce the risk of blood clots.

EVISTA does not increase the risk of a heart attack or stroke in women who have had or are at risk for a heart attack; however; EVISTA increases the likelihood of dying from stroke in these women, should one occur. Before taking EVISTA tell your doctor if you have had a stroke, a mini-stroke, irregular heartbeat, high blood pressure, heart attack, history of smoking, or believe you have other risk factors for stroke or a heart attack.

Before Taking EVISTA

EVISTA is not right for everyone. You should only take prescription EVISTA if you are past menopause. Before taking EVISTA, talk to your doctor about all your medical conditions. If you are pregnant, nursing or may become pregnant, do not take EVISTA, as it may cause fetal harm. Women with liver or kidney disease should use EVISTA with caution. EVISTA should not be taken with estrogens in the form of pills, patches or injections.

Side Effects

Side effects may include hot flashes, leg cramps, swelling, flu-like symptoms, joint pain, and sweating. You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Please see next page for additional information about EVISTA.

Information for Patients About

EVISTA®

(raloxifene hydrochloride tablets) Tablets for Oral Use

Please read the information carefully that comes with EVISTA before you start taking it and each time you refill your prescription. The information may have changed. This information does not take the place of talking with your doctor about your medical condition or treatment. Talk with your doctor about EVISTA when you start taking it and at regular checkups.

What is the most important information I should know about EVISTA?

Serious and life-threatening side effects can occur while taking EVISTA. These include blood clots and dying from stroke:

- Increased risk of blood clots in the legs (deep vein thrombosis) and lungs (pulmonary embolism) have been reported with EVISTA. Women who have or have had blood clots in the legs, lungs, or eyes should not take EVISTA.
- Women who have had a heart attack or are at risk for a heart attack may have an increased risk of dying from stroke when taking EVISTA.
- Before starting EVISTA, tell your doctor if you have had blood clots in your legs, lungs, or eyes, a stroke, mini-stroke (transient ischemic attack), or have an irregular heartbeat.
- 2. Stop taking EVISTA and call your doctor if you have:
  - leg pain or a feeling of warmth in the lower leg (calf).
  - swelling of the legs, hands, or feet.
  - sudden chest pain, shortness of breath, or coughing up blood.
  - sudden change in your vision, such as loss of vision or blurred vision.
- 3. Being still for a long time (such as sitting still during a long car or airplane trip or being in bed after surgery) can increase your risk of blood clots. (See "What should I avoid if I am taking EVISTA?")

What is EVISTA?

EVISTA is a type of prescription medicine called a Selective Estrogen Receptor Modulator (SERM). EVISTA is for women after menopause, and has more than one use:

- Osteoporosis: EVISTA treats and prevents osteoporosis by helping make your bones stronger and less likely to break.
- Invasive Breast Cancer: If you have osteoporosis or are at high risk for breast cancer, EVISTA can be used to lower your chance of getting invasive breast cancer. EVISTA will not totally get rid of your chance of getting breast cancer. Your doctor can estimate your risk of breast cancer by asking you about risk factors, including:
- your age (getting older).
- family history of breast cancer in your mother, sister, or daughter.
- a history of any breast biopsy, especially an abnormal biopsy. EVISTA® (raloxifene hydrochloride tablets) PV 3125 AMP

You and your doctor should talk about whether the possible benefit of EVISTA in lowering your chance of getting invasive breast cancer is greater than its possible risks.

EVISTA is not for use in premenopausal women (women who have not passed menopause).

Who should not take EVISTA?

Do not take EVISTA if you:

- have or have had blood clots in your legs, lungs, or eyes.
   Taking EVISTA may increase the risk of getting blood clots.
- are pregnant or could become pregnant. EVISTA could harm your unborn child.
- are nursing a baby. It is not known if EVISTA passes into breast milk or what effect it might have on the baby.

What should I tell my doctor before taking EVISTA?

EVISTA may not be right for you. Before taking EVISTA, tell your doctor about all your medical conditions, including if you:

- have had blood clots in your legs, lungs, or eyes, a stroke, mini-stroke (TIA/transient ischemic attack), or a type of irregular heartbeat (atrial fibrillation).
- have had breast cancer. EVISTA has not been fully studied in women who have a history of breast cancer.
- have liver or kidney problems.
- have taken estrogen in the past and had a high increase of triglycerides (a kind of fat in the blood).
- are pregnant, planning to become pregnant, or breast-feeding (see "Who should not take EVISTA?").

Tell your doctor about all medicines you take, including prescription and non-prescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. Know the medicines you take. Keep a list of them and show it to your doctor and pharmacist each time you get a new medicine. Especially tell your doctor if you take*:

• warfarin (Coumadin®, Jantoven®)

If you are taking warfarin or other coumarin blood thinners, your doctor may need to do a blood test when you first start or if you need to stop taking EVISTA. Names for this test include "prothrombin time," "pro-time," or "INR." Your doctor may need to adjust the dose of your warfarin or other coumarin blood thinner.

- cholestyramine
- estrogens

EVISTA should not be taken with cholestyramine or estrogens.

How should I take EVISTA?

- Take EVISTA exactly how your doctor tells you to.
- Keep taking EVISTA for as long as your doctor prescribes it for you. It is not known how long you should keep taking EVISTA to lower your chance of getting invasive breast cancers.
- It is important to get your refills on time so you do not run out of the medicine.
- Take one EVISTA tablet each day.
- Take EVISTA at any time of the day, with or without food.
- To help you remember to take EVISTA, it may be best to take it at about the same time each day.

EVISTA® (raloxifene hydrochloride tablets) PV 3125 AMP

- Calcium and vitamin D may be taken at the same time as EVISTA. It is important to take calcium and vitamin D, as directed by your physician, to prevent or treat osteoporosis.
- If you miss a dose, take it as soon as you remember. However, if it is almost time for your next dose, skip the missed dose and take only your next regularly scheduled dose. Do not take two doses at the same time.

What should I avoid while taking EVISTA?

- Being still for a long time (such as during long trips or being in bed after surgery) can increase the risk of blood clots. EVISTA may add to this risk. If you will need to be still for a long time, talk with your doctor about ways to reduce the risk of blood clots. On long trips, move around periodically. Stop taking EVISTA at least 3 days before a planned surgery or before you plan on being still for a long time. You should start taking EVISTA again when you return to your normal activities.
- Some medicines should not be taken with EVISTA (see "What should I tell my doctor before taking EVISTA?").

What are the possible side effects of EVISTA?

Serious and life-threatening side effects can occur while taking EVISTA. These include blood clots and dying from stroke:

- Increased risk of blood clots in the legs (deep vein thrombosis) and lungs (pulmonary embolism) have been reported with EVISTA. Women who have or have had blood clots in the legs, lungs, or eyes should not take EVISTA.
- Women who have had a heart attack or are at risk for a heart attack may have an increased risk of dying from stroke when taking EVISTA.

See "What is the most important information I should know about EVISTA?"

The most common side effects of EVISTA are hot flashes, leg cramps, swelling of the feet, ankles, and legs, flu syndrome, joint pain, and sweating. Hot flashes are more common during the first 6 months after starting treatment.

These are not all the side effects of EVISTA. Tell your doctor about any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away. Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

What else should I know about EVISTA?

- Do not use EVISTA to prevent heart disease, heart attack, or strokes.
- To get the calcium and vitamin D you need, your doctor may advise you to change your diet and/or take supplemental calcium and vitamin D. Your doctor may suggest other ways to help treat or prevent osteoporosis, in addition to taking EVISTA and getting the calcium and vitamin D you need. These may include regular exercise, stopping smoking, and drinking less alcohol.
- Women who have hot flashes can take EVISTA. EVISTA does not treat hot flashes, and it may cause hot flashes in some women. (See "What are the possible side effects of EVISTA?")
- EVISTA has not been found to cause breast tenderness or enlargement. If you notice any changes in your breasts, call your doctor to find out the cause. Before starting and while taking EVISTA you should have breast exams and mammograms, as directed by your doctor. Because EVISTA does not eliminate the chance of developing breast cancers, you need these examinations to find any breast cancers as early as possible.
   EVISTA® (raloxifene hydrochloride tablets)

  PV 3125 AMP

- EVISTA should not cause spotting or menstrual-type bleeding. If you have any vaginal bleeding, call your doctor to find out the cause. EVISTA has not been found to increase the risk for cancer of the lining of the uterus.
- Women in clinical trials have taken EVISTA for up to eight years.

How should I store EVISTA?

- Store EVISTA at 68°F to 77°F (20°C-25°C).
- Keep EVISTA and all medicines out of the reach of children.

General Information about the safe and effective use of EVISTA

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than the ones listed. Do not use EVISTA for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give your EVISTA to other people, even if they have the same symptoms you have. It may harm them.

This is a summary of the most important information about EVISTA. If you would like more information about EVISTA, talk with your doctor. You can ask your doctor or pharmacist for information about EVISTA that is written for health professionals. For more information, call 1-800-545-5979 (toll-free) or go to the following website: www.evista.com.

Dr. Sherwood thinks that since Jenni's immune system doesn't have to focus on her inflamed gums, it may have more time to guard against colds and other minor illnesses.

"I never ate breakfast." -Jennifer Krosche, Long Island, NY

This 37-year-old owner of a public relations firm and mom to a 13-year-old daughter thought she was way too busy to make breakfast and figured she was saving calories—until she realized how often she hit the vending machine for a midmorning snack.

▶ THE DANGER An A.M. meal keeps your eating in check all day. When University of Colorado Health Sciences Center researchers examined the habits of people who successfully lost weight and kept it off, they found that nearly 80% of them ate breakfast daily. Other research has shown that breakfast eaters have lower cholesterol and better brain function throughout the day.

Make Breakfast

a Priority/Jennifer's Tips

Take two. "I get up at 5:30 A.M., but I'm not hungry, just thirsty. I stock up on store-bought smoothies so that I can have one first thing. Then I eat something more substantial at the office (I keep whole-grain cereal, bagels and fruit at my desk). Splitting my breakfast into two mini meals keeps me more satisfied."

Raid your lunchbox. "When I've tired of my usual breakfast or my office stash is running low, I change things up by eating what I brought for lunch: a peanut butter and jelly or turkey sandwich, or cottage cheese with fruit. Then I'll run out for a small salad later in the day."

- EXPERT ADVICE "It's good that Jennifer puts something in her belly early in the morning," says Family Circle Advisory Board member Susan Mitchell, Ph.D., R.D., coauthor of Fat Is Not Your Fate (Fireside). "But since processed smoothies can pack serious sugar and calories, she should make her own." This recipe, which can be prepared the night before, is one of Mitchell's favorites: Put ½ cup fat-free Greek yogurt, 1 cup skim milk and 1½ tablespoons natural peanut butter in a blender and store in the fridge; place 2 bananas in the freezer. In the morning add the bananas and blend (makes 2 servings).
- D SURPRISE BENEFIT "I can't believe the mental difference that breakfast makes. I can now get twice as much work done in the morning," says Jennifer.

"I had horrible posture."

—Tracy Higginbotham, Syracuse, NY

Ever since 45-year-old Tracy was a teen, people had been telling her to stand up straighter. When she started exercising to lose weight, improved posture was an unexpected benefit.

▶ THE DANGER Your mom told you poor posture projects a lack of confidence, and she was right. But years of slouching can also cause neck and back pain. Plus, you lose strength in your core as muscles become permanently contracted, so it becomes harder to stand up straight.

How to Stand Tall/Tracy's Tips Build strength. "I started a basic upper-body strength-training routine, with biceps and triceps curls and push-ups. After just a few weeks I noticed that my posture was better. My favorite exercise: Squeeze your shoulder blades together as if you're pinching a penny between them for about 10 seconds, then release." Take tech breaks. "When I'm at my computer and my shoulders start to slump, I do 15 to 20 minutes of upper-body exercises or yoga. I love the downward dog pose—it stretches me out and makes me stand tall."

- ▶ EXPERT ADVICE "It's excellent that Tracy started strength training—a strong core is key for good posture," says Miriam E. Nelson, Ph.D., a physical activity and nutrition scientist at Tufts University in Boston and coauthor of Strong Women, Strong Backs (Penguin Books). She should also swap her desk chair for an exercise ball an hour a day. "It helps your ab and back muscles—you can't slouch," says Nelson.
- ▶ SURPRISE BENEFIT "Exercise has improved my posture and even my career. When I finish my day with a physical activity, I find myself brainstorming solutions to problems at work," says Tracy. ●

TRASH TALK

FC PICKS >> HERB APPEAL

This summer is bringing a bumper crop of garden-inspired goodies. A few of our faves:

Carr's Rosemary Crackers

Top these rich, savory crackers with blue cheese and serve with merlot for a simple, elegant appetizer.

Häagen-Dazs Five Mint

Dig into this delicious ice cream made with just five all-natural ingredients.

Deep River Snacks Rosemary & Olive Oil Chips

The hint of rosemary gives them an edge over other kettle-cooked varieties.

Amore Italian Herb Paste

This blend of basil, oregano and Italian parsley is an easy addition to garlic bread or vinaigrettes.

TO STOP SPOILAGE

- Store apples, bananas, cantaloupes, pears and nectarines away from other produce they emit ethylene, which hastens the ripening process.
- Never put raw meat, poultry or seafood on the top shelf of the fridge. Their juices, which contain bacteria, can drip down and contaminate other foods.
- Remove meat, poultry and fish from store packaging and dip in cold water. Rewrap in zip-top bags and freeze. This gives the food an even protective layer that helps prevent freezer burn.

TO RESCUE PAST-THEIR-PRIME VEGGIES, FRUIT AND BREAD

- Revive wilted celery by cutting the bottoms and placing stalks in a cup of cold water with 2 tablespoons white vinegar for 3 minutes.
- Cook too-soft cucumbers into a vegetable mash. Toss with olive oil; add salt and pepper.
- Freeze overripe bananas and dip in melted chocolate or warm chocolate sauce.
- Spray stale bread with water and re-bake in the oven at 325° for 5 minutes for rolls or small pieces, 20 minutes for a whole loaf.

GOOD-FOR-YOU IDEAS FROM OUR FOOD DIRECTOR/ REGISTERED DIFTICIAN

Kitchen Confidential

Wow! We always knew that you looked to us for help with feeding your families, but my recent visits to Family Circle's Facebook page and to Momster.com were very instructive! I have three words: healthy, quick and inexpensive. That seems to be the magical combo that everyone wants when it comes to putting food on the table these days. In upcoming columns I'll go into depth on how to do this, but let's start with the basics:

→ Make a plan. Somehow, some way, you need to find one hour each week to create a seven-day menu, with breakfasts, lunches, dinners and snacks. If you don't do this already, it may sound daunting, but I guarantee it gets easier with practice and is worth the effort. For ideas, try out kitchenmonki.com—it makes planning dinner fun.

STAPLES

Create a list.

With your menu in hand, check your fridge and pantry to see what you have, then write down exactly what you need for your meals and snacks. The key to saving time and money is to stick to your list when shopping. And it's worth repeating what to me is the cardinal rule of food shopping: Never go when you're hungry.

→ Whip up leftovers.

When you prepare a favorite dish, like macaroni and cheese or lasagna, make two and freeze one for another time. To bump up the nutrition and stretch servings, toss in extra veggies. You will thank yourself when you have something to slide into the oven after a crazy day.

ZETIA Helps Fight Cholesterol Differently.

ZETIA helps lower cholesterol differently.

Statins, the most common cholesterol-lowering medicines, are a good option. They work mainly with the liver. ZETIA works in the digestive tract, as do some other cholesterol-lowering medicines.

But ZETIA is unique in the way it helps block the absorption of cholesterol that comes from food.

Unlike some statins, ZETIA has not been shown to prevent heart disease or heart attacks.

A healthy diet and exercise are important, but sometimes they're not enough to get your cholesterol where it needs to be. ZETIA can complement your efforts. When added to a healthy diet, ZETIA can lower bad cholesterol (LDL) by an average of 18%. Individual results may vary.

Important Risk Information About ZETIA:

ZETIA is a prescription medicine and should not be taken by people who are allergic to any of its ingredients. If you have ever had liver problems, are nursing or pregnant or may become pregnant, a doctor will decide if ZETIA alone is right for you.

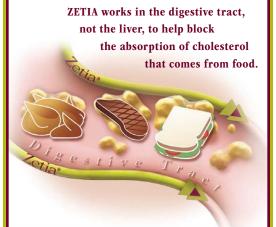

Unexplained muscle pain or weakness could be a sign of a rare but serious side effect and should be reported to your doctor right away. In clinical studies, patients reported few side effects while taking ZETIA. These included diarrhea, joint pains, and tiredness.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Please read the more detailed information about ZETIA on the adjacent page. For more information, call 1-800-98-ZETIA or visit zetia.com.

A different way to help fight cholesterol

Ask your doctor if ZETIA is right for you.

ZETIA® (EZETIMIBE) TABLETS PATIENT INFORMATION ABOUT ZETIA (zĕt´-ē-ă)

Generic name: ezetimibe (ĕ-zĕt´-ĕ-mīb)

Read this information carefully before you start taking ZETIA and each time you get more ZETIA. There may be new information. This information does not take the place of talking with your doctor about your medical condition or your treatment. If you have any questions about ZETIA, ask your doctor. Only your doctor can determine if ZETIA is right for you.

WHAT IS ZETIA?

ZETIA is a medicine used to lower levels of total cholesterol and LDL (bad) cholesterol in the blood. ZETIA is for patients who cannot control their cholesterol levels by diet and exercise alone. It can be used by itself or with other medicines to treat high cholesterol. You should stay on a cholesterol-lowering diet while taking this medicine.

ZETIA works to reduce the amount of cholesterol your body absorbs. ZETIA does not help you lose weight. ZETIA has not been shown to prevent heart disease or heart attacks.

For more information about cholesterol, see the "What should I know about high cholesterol?" section that follows.

WHO SHOULD NOT TAKE ZETIA?

- Do not take ZETIA if you are allergic to ezetimibe, the active ingredient in ZETIA, or to the inactive ingredients. For a list of inactive ingredients, see the "Inactive ingredients" section that follows.
- If you have active liver disease, do not take ZETIA while taking cholesterol-lowering medicines called statins.
- If you are pregnant or breast-feeding, do not take ZETIA while taking a statin.
- If you are a woman of childbearing age, you should use an effective method of birth control to prevent pregnancy while using ZETIA added to statin therapy.

ZETIA has not been studied in children under age 10.

WHAT SHOULD I TELL MY DOCTOR BEFORE AND WHILE TAKING ZETIA?

Tell your doctor about any prescription and non-prescription medicines you are taking or plan to take, including natural or herbal remedies.

Tell your doctor about all your medical conditions including allergies.
Tell your doctor if you:

- ever had liver problems. ZETIA may not be right for you.
- are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. Your doctor will discuss with you whether ZETIA is right for you.
- are breast-feeding. We do not know if ZETIA can pass to your baby through your milk. Your doctor will discuss with you whether ZETIA is right for you.
- experience unexplained muscle pain, tenderness, or weakness.

HOW SHOULD I TAKE ZETIA?

- Take ZETIA once a day, with or without food. It may be easier to remember to take your dose if you do it at the same time every day, such as with breakfast, dinner, or at bedtime. If you also take another medicine to reduce your cholesterol, ask your doctor if you can take them at the same time.
- If you forget to take ZETIA, take it as soon as you remember.
   However, do not take more than one dose of ZETIA a day.
- Continue to follow a cholesterol-lowering diet while taking ZETIA. Ask your doctor if you need diet information.
- Keep taking ZETIA unless your doctor tells you to stop. It is important that you keep taking ZETIA even if you do not feel sick.

See your doctor regularly to check your cholesterol level and to check for side effects. Your doctor may do blood tests to check your liver before you start taking ZETIA with a statin and during treatment.

WHAT ARE THE POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF ZETIA?

In clinical studies patients reported few side effects while taking ZETIA. These included diarrhea, joint pains, and feeling tired.

Patients have experienced severe muscle problems while taking ZETIA, usually when ZETIA was added to a statin drug. If you experience unexplained muscle pain, tenderness, or weakness while taking ZETIA, contact your doctor immediately. You need to do this promptly, because on rare occasions, these muscle problems can be serious, with muscle breakdown resulting in kidney damage.

Additionally, the following side effects have been reported in general use: allergic reactions (which may require treatment right away) including swelling of the face, lips, tongue, and/or throat that may cause difficulty in breathing or swallowing, rash, and hives; raised red rash, sometimes with target-shaped lesions; joint pain; muscle aches; alterations in some laboratory blood tests; liver problems; stomach pain; inflammation of the pancreas; nausea; dizziness; tingling sensation; depression; headache; gallstones; inflammation of the gallbladder.

Tell your doctor if you are having these or any other medical problems while on ZETIA. For a complete list of side effects, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

WHAT SHOULD I KNOW ABOUT HIGH CHOLESTEROL?

Cholesterol is a type of fat found in your blood. Your total cholesterol is made up of LDL and HDL cholesterol.

LDL cholesterol is called "bad" cholesterol because it can build up in the wall of your arteries and form plaque. Over time, plaque build-up can cause a narrowing of the arteries. This narrowing can slow or block blood flow to your heart, brain, and other organs. High LDL cholesterol is a major cause of heart disease and one of the causes for stroke.

HDL cholesterol is called "good" cholesterol because it keeps the bad cholesterol from building up in the arteries.

Triglycerides also are fats found in your blood.

GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT ZETIA

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for conditions that are not mentioned in patient information leaflets. Do not use ZETIA for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give ZETIA to other people, even if they have the same condition you have. It may harm them.

This summarizes the most important information about ZETIA. If you would like more information, talk with your doctor. You can ask your pharmacist or doctor for information about ZETIA that is written for health professionals.

3. FROZEN WHOOPIE PIES

MAKES 12 servings
PREP 10 minutes
FREEZE at least 1 hour
BAKE at 375° for 13 minutes

ICE CREAM FILLING

½ gallon Neapolitan ice cream (in a rectangular container)

COOKIES

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened
- 1 cup packed light-brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- ½ cup cocoa powder
- 3/4 cup milk

- Ice cream: Cut packaging from ice cream. Slice ice cream crosswise into 6 slices, and place on 2 small baking sheets. Freeze 1 hour.
- Heat oven to 375°. Line two large baking sheets with nonstick foil. Cookies: Mix flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt in bowl. Beat butter and sugar in second bowl until creamy. Beat in eggs and vanilla. On low speed, beat in cocoa. Beat in flour mixture and milk in 3 additions, beginning and ending with flour.
- Drop 2 heaping tablespoons batter per cookie onto prepared sheets, spacing 3 inches apart. Spread into 2½-inch rounds with the back of a spoon (keep size equal since they will be sandwiched).
- Bake at 375° for 12 to 13 minutes or until cookies spring back when lightly touched in center. Cool on sheets 5 minutes. Remove cookies to rack to cool completely.
- Remove one sheet of ice cream from freezer. Working quickly, cut circles of ice cream with 3-inch cookie cutter.

flower

A beautiful bouquet that's both centerpiece and dessert is a sweet gift for any hostess.

by Julie Miltenberger

MAKES 1 bouquet (4 to 6 servings) PREP 20 minutes

- 1 small head iceberg lettuce
- ½ honeydew melon
- ½ pineapple
- ½ cantaloupe
- 8 to 10 strawberries
- 24 red seedless grapes
  Assorted bamboo skewers
  1½-inch cookie cutter

become a pro

Any home, garden or crafts store should have interesting containers. For an easy jumpstart, buy our kit for $22. Includes 2 galvanized buckets; 6-, 8- and 10-inch bamboo skewers; and 3 cookie cutters.

Visit readershopping.com or call 800-678-5752.

After you get the hang of the basic cutting and assembly techniques, experiment with more exotic fruits, such as kiwis or blood oranges—they add splashes of bright color. Consider adapting the design to work with whatever's in season. Another crowd-pleasing idea: Dip the strawberries in melted white or dark chocolate.

① Cut a head of iceberg lettuce in half. Peel off a few outer leaves. Place lettuce cut-side down in your "planter."

2 Cut honeydew in half and scoop seeds from one half. Slice off peel, then cut melon into 1-inch "leaves." Place at edge of container.

3 Cut peel off pineapple, then cut fruit crosswise into 3/4-inch slices. Use a 11/2-inch cookie cutter to remove tough core.

4 Cut cantaloupe in half; scoop seeds from one half. Use same cutter to make circles. Press them into center of pineapple slices.

(5) Insert skewer into lettuce, then slide fruit onto skewer. On additional skewers, thread 4 to 5 grapes or a strawberry.

my family life by Patty A. Martinez

Catherine Bell

Catherine Bell, 42, deserves a medal for pulling double duty—as a devoted mom onscreen on Lifetime's hit series Army Wives and off-screen to her 7-year-old daughter, Gemma (and a son who's due this month).

- » How have real-life army wives reacted to your show? We've gotten a great response. Women have told me it's helped them get through tough times when their husbands were deployed. To know that fans can relate and feel something because of my work is incredible.
- » Does Gemma know her mom's a star? I'm laughing because I just had lunch with Gemma in her school cafeteria, and I was surrounded by 6- and 7-year-olds asking me a hundred questions, like, "Are you famous?" "What's it like to be on a movie set?" "Gemma says you wear 2 pounds of makeup—is that true?" So my daughter definitely knows that not all moms act for a living. She and her friends love The Good Witch movies I've been in for the Hallmark Channel. But I explain that it's just another job—same as a mom who works at a bank or a restaurant.
- » You relocated to Charleston, South Carolina, for the series. Is it true what they say about southern hospitality? Totally! It's wonderful here. We actually want to stay as long as possible, even after the show runs its course. It's so family-oriented, and everyone's sweet, polite and respectful.
- » Is Gemma a fan of soul food yet? Oh, yeah. I actually just picked up some fried chicken for dinner. Charleston has what they call "low country" food that's really good, like crab cakes and shrimp and grits.
- » Your husband, Adam, is a screenwriter who helps out at home a lot. How are his Mr. Mom skills? Everything is a team effort with us. He gets Gemma ready for school in the mornings and takes her to gymnastics, swimming and horseback riding. Even when she was a baby, he'd wake up for nighttime feedings so I could get enough sleep before a 5 A.M. call time. He's the best!

- » How did your family upbringing differ from his? My relatives are really expressive. The first time Adam had dinner at my grandma's house, my Persian uncles ran up and yelled, "Adam!" before kissing him on both cheeks. He was like, "Whoa! Why are these men kissing me?" At the dinner table my relatives talk with their mouths full and reach across the table to get what they want, whereas a meal at his parents' house is very quiet and polite: "Can you pass the peas, please? Thank you."
- » Are you sharing your Persian culture with Gemma? My mom and stepdad just moved to South Carolina to be closer to us, so they're teaching her to speak Farsi. My mom also cooks her kebabs over basmati rice.
- » What makes you a proud mom? If the school bully is treating someone unfairly, Gemma won't allow it. She gets in there and says, "Hey, that's not okay." When I see her taking care of people like that, I feel so good.

Defining moment:

"Being diagnosed with thyroid cancer at 21 helped me realize the importance of living each day to its fullest."

Guilty pleasures:

"Chocolate cookies and peanut butter sandwiches, definitely!"

Daredevil duo:

"Adam and I ride motorcycles and race sports cars. We love to try anything new and exciting."

Best parenting

advice: "To keep a refreshed and relaxed attitude, and to take time for yourself and your marriage."

Supermom

Eco-Comfort.™ Making you and the environment more comfortable.

Eco-Comfort is our latest comfort innovation. It's a new range of environmentally conscious furniture options, including soy-based cushions and fabrics that are tested and approved by a definitive ecological certification process. We're also reducing waste and energy use at our factories and stores. Basically, we want you to feel as good about our furniture, as you do in our furniture. See our Eco-Comfort line at a La-Z-Boy retailer. Learn more about our environmental initiatives at la-z-boy.com/ecocomfort.

Comfort. It's what we do.
